Consider Second High School Now Rather Than in Late '70s

Two proposals for utilizing the Wein tract of land near Maryville and Nameoki roads were presented to the board of education Monday night for consideration. Both involve a departure from the original plan of a combined elementary school and junior high school.

It had been proposed to convert the combined school to a second high school with the addition of more rooms and facilities in the late 1970s.

In view of current enrollment trends—with fewer elementary pupils and more secondary students—the board members suggested that the new structure near Bowland be made into a high school from the start, or possibly into a junior high school.

In the latter instance, GCHS would utilize much of Gougeon Junior High School, which shares the present high school campus along Nameoki Road between Fehling Road and Madison Avenue.

Second GCHS Recommended
Accrediting groups have been suggesting for some time that two high schools be needed in the Granite City community unit school district, which stretches from 12th Street to 20th Street and includes Stalling. They renewed the recommendation during inspections last week.

Whether it would be feasible to "shift gears" at this point has not been fully determined, but it is believed there would be no major problems.

Architects currently are putting the finishing touches on detailed plans and specifications for the elementary school to be a junior-high edifice.

But its design from the start has included the idea of eventual conversion to use as a high school.

Plan Madison Occupancy Permits

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

An ordinance requiring an occupancy certificate on all residential and commercial property before it can be rented or sold was discussed at a meeting of the Madison City Council Tuesday night.

The ordinance is aimed at cleaning up properties of the city before owners can rent or sell the real estate.

Noting scattered infested areas throughout the city, Mayor Mike Sasyk blamed much of the condition upon absentee owners who leave dilapidated properties in a state of disrepair.

Second Ward Alderman Richard Kismar asked about a stronger health ordinance to help keep the city clean.

John Gitchoff of the city legal department replied that "first we would have to have the property declared a public nuisance."

"You have a right to go to court on an individual basis, but one house does not create a public nuisance. Really, it's a private wrong against the neighbor."

"Isolated cases are not public, but private nuisances," he said.

Continuous Pleading
"As neighbors are unwilling or unable to afford to go to court, they come to the alderman and city fathers with the complaint," Gitchoff continued.

"It takes continuous pleading by city officials to get any action, and at times the city can take a truck and clean up the property for them."

Mayor Sasyk and Gitchoff said the solution may be easier when home rule takes effect under the new state constitution.

The mayor added that a certificate of occupancy may help Kismar and First Ward Alderman Robert D. Reeves agreed that "the problem is getting worse all the time."

Hymen-Michaels Petition
The mayor announced that a public meeting will be held at 10 a.m. May 24 in the city hall on a petition by the Hymen-Michaels Co. to permit open burning.

It was announced that the Ober Nester Glass Co. of East St. Louis will operate a bottle redemption center from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 15 and June 13, and plans were made to station a truck and the city garage to collect bottles and jars for redemption.

The bottles are to be empty, clean, separated by color and containing no metal. The firm pays one cent per pound or $20 a ton for the glass, and the mayor suggested that a local organization sponsor the drive, with funds going to charity.

Police Capt. Edward Zabotka and Lt. Richard Krieschok were authorized to attend a training course in police supervision May 10-21 at the University of Illinois. Tuition of $250 each will be paid by the Regional Law Enforcement Commission.

It was reported that a $40,000 election city has been authorized for police purposes by the Law Enforcement Commission to approve by the city council.

Mayor Sasyk reported that a meeting is being arranged with private interests to negotiate a lease of the city's old Chain of Rocks Bridge and grounds. The meeting may be held next week.

Meredith Mullen formally was appointed as city comptroller, effective tomorrow. He succeeds retiring Edward J. Miller, who plans to be available for assistance.

Following the meeting, students in the American Progress class at Madison High School, who toured city facilities during the day and were treated to a chicken dinner at the Sportsman's Club, conducted a mock city council session.

Since the surveys made for the proposed site, there has been a reduction in the growth pattern of the school district that is now even reversing itself. During the past year, the Granite City district has lost a total of 100 pupils.

Killed in Vietnam Ward 7 Ballots Again

By HARRY BARNES

Demand for a recount of the vote cast in the April 6 municipal election in Granite City's seventh ward was granted by the city council Monday night.

Council approval followed a lengthy discussion in which Alderman Walter Nomm, moved that the matter be referred to City Attorney Leon Scroggins for a later report as to what legal action the council might take—particularly as to the opening of the bags containing the official ballots. That motion carried.

The council, however, has since voted similar recounts without court orders in recent years.

In voting 14 to 1 in favor of the recount with Nomm casting the only negative vote—the council granted a request by George Gordon, 6884 Boyle Ave., a candidate for alderman of the seventh ward who was declared defeated by incumbent Alderman Emerald Dawes by a margin of only three votes in the April 6 municipal balloting.

Dawes was among those voting in favor of the recount.

The council action in Gordon's favor came after a unanimous vote had been cast in favor of a motion by Nomm that a petition to strike the demand for a recount be referred to City Attorney William W. Schooley, he referred to the city attorney for a later report.

Three Vote Margin
The recount controversy grew out of the April 6 election and the close vote for the seventh ward aldermanic post between Dawes, the incumbent, and Gordon, an employee of the Marshfield Division of Miles Laboratories, Inc. Dawes polled 584 votes, Gordon received 581.

A third candidate, Carl Schoenman, polled 272 votes.

Gordon filed his demand for a recount of the vote in the five precincts of Ward Seven—precincts 27 through 31—for presentation to the council in its April 29 meeting. Lengthy debate followed, but the council voted 14 to 1 to grant the recount.

Meanwhile, efforts to settle the issue were reported under way. A state board spokesman said the case is being discussed.

The hearing on the case originally was set in Granite City April 7. That hearing also was postponed and rescheduled for Tuesday, followed by the second count.

River Festival Topic Of Rotary Club Talk

Steven Suess, son of Rotarian Richard Suess, of 3200 Willow Ave., and Miss Claudette Hoelle, Belleville, both students at SIU-SW, discussed plans for the Mississippi River Festival at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison Rotary Club at the Madison Recreation Center.

The two students, both speech majors, are members of the committee that chooses the stars to perform at the Festival.

In selecting performers two basic factors are taken into consideration. One is the cost of the performer. The other is to achieve a well-balanced program for the area.

"Many people wanted us to get Andy Williams, but when we checked into it we found that he wanted $50,000 for one night's performance," Suess said.

Mrs. Valarie Stevens called to the clubs attention that the Madison Junior class at the high school is selling fire extinguishers as a fund-raising project to help finance the prom. Several Rotarians bought fire extinguishers after the meeting.

A board of directors meeting was called to discuss the possibility of raising dues, because of an increase in national fees.

A committee headed by W. B. Bartholomew of the conference office at SIU-SW is compiling letters from students, friends, colleagues and citizens. These letters will be bound in volumes for presentation at the dinner. Letters should be addressed to Dr. Wilkins and mailed before May 24 to Mr. Bartholomew at SIU-SW campus.

Special Meeting Called To Announce Airport Site

The Illinois site for a proposed $350-million metropolitan area airport will be announced at 4 p.m. Wednesday in a special meeting of the St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. Robert B. Lankin, chairman, told the authority's regular meeting yesterday afternoon that the announcement of the site was delayed because publication of the engineering and environmental study results had not been completed.

Officials of Governor Richard B. Ogilvie's office had requested the selected site not be announced until copies of the studies, supporting the selection, could be distributed, Lankin said.

The reports were to have been available for yesterday's meeting, but several minor changes and publication problems had made it "physically impossible to get all of these reports together," Lankin said.

In announcing plans for Wednesday's special meeting, Lankin said: "At that time, God willing, the site of this airport will be announced."

Commenting on speculation that Governor Ogilvie may be present at Wednesday's meeting to personally announce the proposed site, Arven H. Saunders, executive director, commented, "I honestly don't know. It's possible."

In other business the authority granted $50,000 to the Regional Industrial Development Corporation (RIDC) to study ways of establishing passenger, freight and mail service which will be superior to other airports, and ways in which low-cost, efficient distribution for freight movements for the 39,000 area businesses could be facilitated. Work on the study will begin as soon as the site for the new airport is announced.

Rail Passenger Service In GC to End Friday

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The last passenger train to stop in Granite City—the Wash Cannonball—will arrive here from Detroit at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow, eight and one-half hours before all railroad passenger service in the nation is turned over to the National Railway Passenger Corp. (Amtrak).

Beginning Saturday morning, Amtrak will operate two trains per day, seven days a week from St. Louis to Chicago and two returning trains, none of which will stop in Granite City. The Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad "Abraham Lincoln" has been replaced by Amtrak 2 which will leave St. Louis at 8 a.m. Intermediate stops will be in Alton, Springfield, Lincoln, Bloomington, Pontiac and Jo-

Final Wash Cannonball will simply cease to exist after its Friday afternoon run when the Norfolk & Western Railroad will become strictly a freight carrier.

The morning Cannonball will leave St. Louis at 9:30 a.m. Friday and will stop in Granite City at 10:02 a.m. before proceeding on to Detroit where it will complete its final run at 8:35 p.m.

The last passenger train to stop in Granite City will be the Cannonball from Detroit which will leave there at 7:15 a.m. and arrive here at 3:30 p.m. It will finish its run in St. Louis at 4:20 p.m., never to run again.

Even though it means they will wait for four less trains at railroad crossings, most Quad-City residents will be reluctant to say goodbye to the Wash Cannonball and the Midnight Special, not only for the loss of routes here, but for the century of service passenger trains have provided to this area.

Pontoon Board Qualifies Mrs. Bledsoe as Clerk

The Pontoon Beach Village Board in a special meeting last night declared Mrs. Kathleen M. Bledsoe, a Pontoon Beach housewife, elected as village clerk after disqualifying Carl E. Hackney because he did not meet residency requirements in filing as a candidate.

The resolution followed completion of the April 20 vote canvass and also declared Loren Madison, Dean Rochester and John Cole as duly elected village trustees and certified the election of Thomas Staicoff as village board president.

Voting in favor of the resolution were Village Board members Rosewell Bennett Jr., Don McNew, Otto Kreher and Anthony Jackson. Fred T. Reer abstained from voting.

William W. Schooley, village attorney, told the board that it was his opinion that the disqualification of one candidate did not disqualify any of the other candidates on the same ticket.

When asked his opinion on the question of filing annexation documents in Edwardsville, Schooley said the statute is merely directive to the clerk and does not effect the validity of the annexation.

When incumbent clerk Mrs. Nancy Rosales, present town clerk officially ends her term Schooley recommended the village board appoint Mrs. Bledsoe as village clerk, as an additional act to supplement the official resolution.

The next regular meeting of the Board is scheduled May 27 at the Long Lake Fire Department Recreation hall at Pontoon Beach. President Staicoff may call a special meeting to seal newly-elected officers.

Conduct Charge Filed

Anthony Modrusic, 27, of 1015 Washington Ave., Madison, was arrested at 3:55 a.m. today at 2233r Delmar Ave. on a disorderly conduct charge.

$200 Bid for Damaged Fire Truck Rejected

The Granite City council rejected by a vote of 8-6 Monday night a motion to sell for $200 the 1947 LaFrance fire truck damaged in a fatal crash at 27th Street and Madison Avenue.

Alderman Emerald Dawes, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, said the $200 bid was the only one received in response to an advertisement. He said all tires, accessories and usable parts have been removed from the truck and that the truck body is good only for scrap. The bid was made by the Mueller Equipment Service Co.

Several aldermen commented that the price was a "give-away" and that a better price should be sought. After the vote rejecting sale of the truck, Dawes asked, "What do you want me to do with it?" Council members moved on to the next item of business.

11 Accidents Cause Injury Of 9 in Area

Four persons were injured in one accident and two others were hurt when an auto struck a house in traffic accidents in the Quad-City area. Nine persons were hurt in six mishaps reported since Monday.

Four persons were injured when an auto driven by John G. Levy Sr., 31, of 3023 N. Oak Drive, was struck by a car driven by Peggy L. Mitkos, 20, of 2824 Forest Ave. at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at 26th Street and Edison Avenue. Levy was charged with a right-of-way violation at a yield sign.

Levy was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, 46, with contusions and pains of the knees. Both were released following x-rays.

Car Hits House

A Brooklyn man was charged with destruction of property and reckless driving after his auto went out of control on Venice, tore down two fences and crashed into a house, breaking through a wall and injuring two women.

Clarence McShan, 38, was arrested at 11:55 p.m. yesterday, police said, after his auto bound auto failed to stop for the traffic sign on Douglas Street at Selb Avenue and broke through fences at 27th Street, the home of Pearl Funderbuck, at 1204 Douglas, and then crashed into the Funderbuck house. McShan told police his brakes failed.

Miss Shirley Wimberly, 21, of Lovejoy, a passenger in McShan's auto, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance where she was treated for pain to her chest and was released following treatment.

Mrs. Funderbuck, who was injured when her car struck her house, was examined at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She complained of pain to her abdomen and lower back.

Truck-Car Crash

A collision at 20th and State streets at 11:45 a.m. Monday, resulted in injuries to the drivers of both vehicles.

Admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital was Edward M. Dunham, 50, of 2504 W. 20th St., operator of an auto traveling south on State Street, who suffered contusions of the left chest area and underwent x-ray of the skull, spine and chest.

Driver of the truck, east-bound on 20th Street, was Eugene Niedzialek, 42, of St. Louis, who according to the police report also sustained minor injuries. He was not listed as treated at the local hospital.

Boy, 5, Hit by Car

Jimmy M. Ragan Jr., 5, of 2535 Edwards St., was struck on the left arm, bruising it, when he ran from between two parked cars in front of one driven by Nancy M. Calvin, 2048 Thirteenth St., at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the 2500 block of Edwards. She reported to police the boy's parents felt medical aid was unnecessary.

Drug Education Grant; Seminar on Saturday

The Granite City school district will receive a $2,000 grant to help develop a demonstration program on drug abuse education, State Supr. Michael J. Bakalis said today.

In another phase of the local program to combat drug abuse, an all-day seminar will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday in the GCIS cafeteria. All members of the community are being invited to attend.

Tax Diversion Beaten; Bomb Call at Capitol

A plan said to divert gasoline taxes from road building to boat channels was defeated by a tie vote Monday in the Illinois House Conservation and Water Resources Committee.

It would have given $84,000 monthly to the Waterways Division for boating recreation aids and channel maintenance.

In another Springfield development, Gov. Ogilvie stood vigil in the Illinois capitol despite a telephone threat that a bomb would explode there between midnight and 1 a.m. Wednesday.

State troopers searched and found nothing. The governor said his action was symbolic — "We're trying to tell something to people who try to intimidate government."

Television's Effect on Child Guidance Cited

Sister Mary Cornelius, Pontoon Beach village juvenile officer and a substitute teacher at St. Elizabeth School, addressed Granite City Rotarians Tuesday, citing the possible role of television in creating differing values between children and parents.

Dean Maberry served as program chairman and Vice President Carl Mathias presided. David Fox was a guest at the luncheon.

Ticketed after Mishap

David King Carter, Ferguson, Mo., was issued a right-of-way violation ticket after his auto pulled in front of another driven by Jennifer J. Bailey, 9:05 a.m. Wednesday, at 27th and State streets, resulting in a collision.

The measure was designated as House Bill 2418 and was scheduled to be assigned to a House committee today. Dates for committee hearings have not been set.

More than 200 parents and swimmers are expected to attend. Each swimmer will be presented with an individual trophy stating the number of times he has broken his own record. A "most improved" swimmer trophy for each age group also will be awarded.

Claude Miller, representing the Tri-City Grocery Co. and Edward Uherick, of the First Granite City National Bank, will make the presentations.

Freddie McColgan is coach for the 65 swimmers. Assistant coach is Jeff Spector of Madison High School.

Slides taken at the National YMCA Swimming meet last week in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., which five Granite City swimmers attended, will be shown.

Warren Collins Named Logan School Principal; Succeeds Mrs. Eva Meier

Warren Collins, 39, of 3320 Harvard Place, assistant principal of Prather Junior High School, was named principal of Logan School for the next school year by the Granite City Board of Education in regular meeting Monday night.

Collins will replace Mrs. Eva Meier, present principal of Logan School, who will retire at the end of this school year.

Collins has been with the school district seven years, the first four as a teacher of American history and civics at Granite City High School, and the last three in his present position. Prior to coming here he taught six years at Murphysboro High School.

He was educated in Murphysboro schools and received his Bachelor of Science in Education from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He served four years in the Navy during the Korean Conflict.

He, his wife, Mildred, and their three sons are members of Central Christian Church.

Several Applicants Considered

The unanimous appointment of Collins was made after a 15-minute executive session in which qualifications of several applicants for the position were discussed.

The resignation of Beverly Van Metre, a first grade teacher at Stallings School, was accepted. The board also voted to hire Miss Martin Fletcher, 22, of Collinsville, assigned to special education.

Maternity leaves of absence were granted to Mrs. Kathy Kirksey, a first grade teacher at Nameoki School; Mrs. Ellen Curtis, a first grade teacher at Maryville School; and Mrs. Suzanne Lentz, a first grade teacher at Washington School.

Doris Barker, vocal music teacher of Central Junior High School, was granted a return from a leave of absence. She will resume her duties May 3.

The board appropriated $333 for the construction of a fence around the air conditioner at Grigsby Junior High School. The contract was awarded to Granite City Fence Co. for a 10-foot-high chain link fence, 58 feet around, with three strands of barbed wire at the top to keep children from playing on the 11 foot high cooling unit.

Buy Custodial Supplies

An appropriation of $16,323 for custodial supplies was approved, as was $378 for six new skylights to replace broken units on the Prather gymnasium roof. Another $233 was appropriated for 100 yards of 49 inch wide cork board for bulletin boards.

A total of $11,630 was approved for the Quad-City Coordinated Youth Services Compulsory Attendance Program for 1971-72. The program is being continued at the same cost as 1970-71 school year.

A National School Board Association request for $272 for basic membership and several policy development books was approved by the board. The sum of $1,536 was appropriated to continue the throat culture program.

A resolution reappointing William W. Schooley as attorney for the school district was approved and a request from Eastern Illinois University to contract for student teachers to be sent here was granted.

Voucher reimbursement claims totaling $23,960 under the state Title III project and $11,169 under the Title II project were authorized and signed.

Requests Granted

Permission was granted to the YMCA to distribute Indian guide promotional literature and summer program booklets in various schools this fall, to the McKinley Park Youth Center for a fish fry May 4, and to the American Legion to use two dressing rooms at the high school gym June 13 for a parade.

Six classrooms at Webster, Washington, McKinley and Logan schools were approved for use in the Head Start program this summer and the Granite City Park district was granted permission to distribute program booklets to all elementary school children ten days prior to the close of school.

Granite City Steel Co. yesterday announced net income of $1,407,000, or 31 cents per share on common stock, for the quarter ended March 31, 1971, compared with net income of $1,000,000, or 20 cents per share, for the first quarter of 1970, adjusted to reflect the acquisition of Central States Steel, Inc.

On a pro forma, fully diluted basis, net income for the first quarter of 1971 amounted to 28 cents per share, which is the same as earned for the first quarter last year. The local firm formerly paid out dividends of 28 cents each three months.

Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board of Granite City Steel, announced the results for the first quarter following a meeting of the board of directors.

He said the company produced 383,000 tons of raw steel in the first quarter this year and shipped 325,000 tons of steel products, principally flat rolled, compared with production of 374,000 tons and shipments of 337,000 tons in the first quarter of 1970.

On April 19, Granite City Steel and National Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh jointly announced an agreement in principle for the merger of Granite City Steel into National Steel, subject to working out a satisfactory merger agreement and the approval of the directors of both companies and the stockholders of Granite City Steel. Data also is being submitted to the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice.

Material Costs Up Sharply

Discussing Granite City Steel's first quarter results, Veeder pointed out that "the cost of virtually all the materials and services associated with the manufacture of steel mill products has remained very high."

"As a result, our profits for the first quarter this year do not reflect the full benefits which would otherwise have been realized from three months in which we were able to operate the plant at high level and make volume shipments of a normal product mix."

"While we operated at about the same level in each period, there were two significant differences."

"Raw material and other costs were much lower in relation to our selling prices in the first quarter a year ago than they were this year."

"On the other hand, our shipments then included some semifinished steel for export while this year the stronger demand for steel has supported a more favorable product mix."

"We ended the first quarter of 1971 by shipping a larger tonnage of plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other finished steel products in March than in any previous month in the company's history."

Veeder said that steel users "are continuing to build hedge inventory against the possibility of a steel strike. Granite City Steel's order backlog is higher than at any time in recent years."

"We also have been encouraged by the first-quarter performance of most of our major production facilities."

"Our key rolling mill department, the 36-inch hot strip mill complex, produced about 22% more tonnage in the quarter just ended than in the first quarter last year."

Warren Collins Named Logan School Principal; Succeeds Mrs. Eva Meier

The high school band again will march in the park district's annual baseball parade May 15 under board approval given at the meeting.

What is expected to be the last of the annual Masque & Gavel summer trips was approved by the board. The students will see three Broadway plays in New York and present a performance at the Jersey City Community College there. Expenses are paid by the individual students taking the trip. B. J. Davis, superintendent, commented that the trips are becoming too expensive to continue after this year.

Plan Learning Centers

An application for funds to operate learning centers to operate in Emerson, Nameoki, Niedringhaus and Wilson schools, at a cost not to exceed $14,000, was authorized under the Title III program to be reimbursed by the state for 25% of the cost. A status report on the project will be presented to the board at its next regular meeting.

A deduction of $161 from the construction contract for the Wilson School addition was accepted on recommendation of Tally A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, to eliminate six classroom door closers which Heubner felt were not needed.

Use of Emerson, Lake and Logan schools and the Logan Annex to hold parent orientation meetings for Boy Scouts and their parents was granted. The Cahokia Mounds Council was authorized to distribute recruiting flyers and survey cards at the schools.

It was reported that all buildings in the school district have been surveyed for work needed to comply with the Life Safety Code of an estimated $600,000. The cost of the survey was $1,500. The board was informed that the cost of bringing all buildings into compliance with the code, $383,883 has been expended on the work to date, according to the report.

The board members were informed that a revision of Title I funds from $1,500,000 to $1,600,000 has been approved by the state. The revised funds will fully cover the cost of regular year and the summer programs, Brown said.

Herzing Heads Smith
Plant's Auto Workers

William Herzing of Okaville, formerly of Granite City, has been elected president of the new United Auto Workers Local 1715 at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant here. Buskin Lambert, St. Louis, was elected vice-president.

Herzing said he was elected on a pledge that the rights of all union members will be respected and that his objective as president is to help the plant expand to provide more jobs for workers. He urged union members to "join hands in a united front to guarantee the rights they deserve."

Raymond Gray of Granite City was elected recording secretary and William Schab, Gillespie, was named financial secretary. Trustees are Godfrey Boyer, Leonard Buskin and Floyd Adamsberger. Charles Wright was named sergeant-at-arms and George Crocker was elected guide.

The United Auto Workers union replaced Boilemakers Union Local 575 as bargaining agent for A. O. Smith workers as the result of an NLRB election in December.

The extent to which Kindergarten was Germanized in succeeding years is indicated by the fact that in 1880 the Methodists sold their part of the Kindergarten Church and School to an Immanuel Lutheran congregation.

Among the thousands of Germans who came to Missouri in the early days of settlement were August Brundage, Frederick and Mary Niedringhaus, natives of Westphalia, and their sons, Henry, William F., Frederick G. and Frederick W.

The family settled at St. Louis, where Frederick W., eldest son, found work as a carpenter.

Man in Mishap Charged

John F. Bobick, East St. Louis, was issued a right-of-way violation ticket after he observed a stop sign and then collided with a car driven by Deborah L. Cross, 305 W. Chain of Rocks Road, at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday at 22nd and Adams streets.

Bobick, 35, was charged with driving without a license, and a child, was enrolled in school.

By 1837, William F. and Frederick G. had saved enough money to open a small shop of their own at Second Street and Cass Avenue, St. Louis.

In those days, tinware was cut by hand and soldered together. When the brothers learned that French manufacturers had developed a machine which stamped out pots and pans from a single sheet of tin, they imported one, along with a workman to operate it.

The machine produced shiny light-weight kitchen utensils far superior to the cast-iron vessels in general use.

In no time at all, the brothers amassed small fortunes. In their shops, the St. Louis Stampers Company.

MORE ABOUT City Agrees

A committee of three persons to make the recount. Alderman Paul Rutledge told the council that "there have been two recounts by the council before that I know of. I served on both recount committees. This (opposition) is unfair to Gordon. You've never turned anyone down before."

Rutledge's remark drew loud applause from a Granite City High School class of about 30 civic students who were attending the meeting to witness how the city government functions.

Alderman Steve Basarich said he believed everything would be all right "if he comes in with a court order." Alderman Sam Whitmer suggested that the council should ask City Clerk Robert Stevens how he feels about opening the ballot bags since he is the official custodian of the ballots.

Before Stevens could respond, Alderman Clyde Boyd asked Scroggins if he would give a ruling on the issue. Scroggins repeated what he told the council the previous week. He pointed ed out again that the council, under the law, "is the sole judge in the handling of city elections. It has been the past practice of the council to make the recounts, although there is nothing in the statute that says they shall make them. I can't recommend how you are going to vote on this."

At this point, a woman in the audience who did not wait for approval to speak, rose from her seat, moved into the aisle and said:

"Gentlemen, I want to ask one thing. If Mr. Daves had lost this election by three votes, and had asked, for a recount, would you have given it to him without all this trouble?"

Alderman Thomas Baker asked Scroggins if it were legal for the council, at that point, to make further motions on the demand for recount. Scroggins said it was.

"Gentlemen, I think you're going at this all backward," Nom objected.

"If the three aldermen who are the oldest in time of service are to make the recount, then I decline," Nom added.

Nom is the oldest in line of service on the present council. Alderman E. E. Robertson then made a motion that the three oldest aldermen in line of service be named to a committee to make the recount, and that if any of these refused to serve the selection would move down the line in order of seniority.

The motion carried on a voice vote.

Nom said again that he would not serve. Rutledge pointed out that if Nom did not serve on the recount committee, the committee, in line of council service, would consist of himself, Whitmer and Basarich.

Rutledge also suggested that the time for making the recount be set by agreement between the three-man council committee, the attorneys for Daves and Gordon, and the city clerk.

Alton, Roxana Victors in Annual Madison County Track Meet Here

Alton and Roxana were the division winners in the annual Madison County Track Meet held Tuesday afternoon at Granite City High School.

Alton won the red division, established for higher enrollment schools in the county, with 111 points while Granite City finished in second place in the division with 63½ points. Edwardsville followed with 33½ and Collinsville trailed with 30. In the green division (smaller schools) Roxana gathered 80 points to easily bypass Triad with 47. Highland was third with 46, Bethalto fourth 42 and Madison won fifth with 15. Other schools in that division and their point totals were Wood River 8, Highland St. Paul 1 and Alton Marquette 0.

Five meet records fell during the activities Tuesday, two in the red division and three in the green division.

Warrior Dave Bell claimed a new record in the pole vault at 12 feet, 7 inches, an open record since the red division was established last year.

R. Andrew of Alton won the mile run in a record time of 4 minutes, 25.6 seconds. Collinsville formerly held the record with 4 minutes, 28.3 seconds.

The three records which fell in the green division were broken by previous record holders and all were from Roxana.

Mike Brennan bettered his old long jump mark of 20 feet, 8½ inches with a leap of 20 feet, 11½ inches; Dave Stanton shot put 57 feet, 2 inches to top his former mark of 55 feet, 3½ inches; and Mike Bernier went over the high hurdles in 14.6 seconds, faster by four-tenths second.

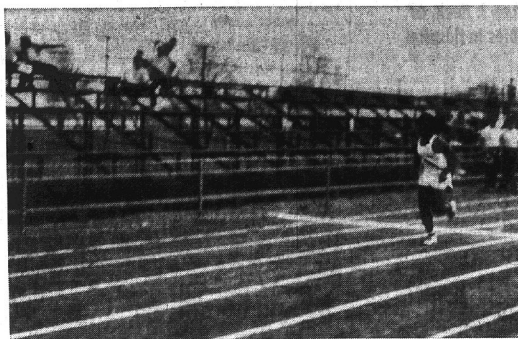

The Warriors had four first places, Alton had 10 and Collinsville won one. Bell's record pole vault was followed by a victory for Berry Schroeder in the high hurdles in 15.7 seconds, a first place for Don Smith with a high jump of 6 feet, 2 inches, and a win for Warrior Gene Briggs in the two-mile run in 10 minutes, 11.1 seconds.

Second place winners adding points to the Granite City score included Stan Stajduhar in the 100-yard dash (10.1), Brad Fields in the discus (143 feet, 2½ inches) and Bob Kratz in the pole vault (22 feet). The 880-

IT'S A LONG WAY between hurdles for Trojan Chris Stanley as he attempts to qualify for the finals in the low hurdles of the Madison County Track Meet here Tuesday. Stanley, a freshman, was eliminated during preliminaries, as were many of the nearly 200 trackmen who competed on the Granite City High School track.

Mascotah Is Victor In Roxana Relays

Madison finished in a three-way tie for 10th place in the Roxana Relays which were completed Monday evening after having been rained out April 20.

The preliminary events and one other event were finished Tuesday, April 20, before the rain came and by then more than the skies were looking gloomy for the Trojan trackmen.

The only individual who had not been eliminated in the preliminaries was Henry Rhoads, and the relay teams were in trouble without the assistance of Ed Chandler who pulled a hamstring muscle April 16.

Rhoads came through Monday with a second place in the heavy man's 100-yard dash in 10.55 seconds, a third in the discus with 135 feet, 11½ inches (breaking his school record of 133 feet), and a fifth in the shot put with a put of 47 feet, 9 inches.

The relay teams all failed to place.

Mascotah won the event with 78 points, Roxana was second with 71. Highland had 36 and Litchfield finished in fourth place with 28 points.

Can you find the Volkswagen hidden in this picture?

If you can, you'll make us very sad.

Because we've troubled ourselves no end to hide it from you.

Our quest for the invisible Volkswagen took us all the way to Turin, Italy.

Where we asked the famous Ghia Studios to design us a sporty Italian body.

They did. Their drawings clutched tightly in hand, we secretly prowled about Europe for the best coach builder we could find.

Success. To the Karmann Coachworks of Osnabruck we handed over Ghia's sketches with the injunction:

"Make it beautiful." (Or else.)

They welded. And burnished. And sculpted. And sanded. And painted.

Until they had shaped in steel what Ghia had shaped in pencil. Smug in the knowledge that nobody could ever mistake this beautiful car for a Volkswagen, we made it a Volkswagen.

By concealing our air-cooled engine in back. (For better traction.)

And making it go about 26 miles on just one gallon.

Then we gave this Volkswagen its final disguise.

We named it the Karmann Ghia.

13 Unlucky Number For Trojans, Bow To Bethalto, WMA

Thirteen is an unlucky number for the Madison Trojans. Bethalto got 13 hits for 13 runs to give Madison an overall 9-13 record. MHS was defeated Wednesday at Bethalto 13-1 after bowing 15-1 to Western Military Academy Tuesday.

Courtney Prothro started on the mound, but was replaced by Carl Fondill in the second inning, in the Bethalto game as an earlier injury began to give him trouble.

The score was tied 1-1 at the end of the first inning. Trojan John Gardner singled, stole second and scored on a double. Jack, Trojan right fielder, doubled a triple.

Bethalto scored four runs on four hits and a walk in the third. The fourth inning saw Bethalto score eight runs on five hits, three walks and one error.

The game was called in the fifth inning as the 10-run rule took effect.

"At the beginning of the season I told you we could not do worse than last year, but I was wrong, we will do worse, as we will be losing more games this season," Trojan Coach Ron Davis moaned.

Five runs on two hits isn't bad, but it still wasn't good enough, as the Baseball Trojans were clobbered 15-5 Tuesday at Madison by Western Military. Western totaled 11 hits and made two errors, but the Trojans committed seven errors.

Madison batted the bases in the third inning when Ron McLaughlin and Carl Turner walked and advanced on an error by Western's catcher Bert Thompson was then hit by a pitched ball. McLaughlin scored on an overthrow of first base. Austin Lewis got two RBIs when he singled driving in Paul Turner and John Gardner in the fifth, but he was thrown out at second-trying to stretch his luck.

Trojans Richard Harper and McLaughlin, who got on base due to walks in the sixth inning, snuck in a double steal. Carl Turner walked leading the bases, and an error on the catcher scored Harper for the only run of the inning.

Friday the Trojans travel to Granite City for a 4 p.m. game.

Warriors Smash East Side 13-3, Split Two Others

Warrior Bill Parks hit two four-baggers in yesterday's game against East St. Louis which helped Granite City High School smash a 13-3 victory that was called at the end of the fifth inning due to the 10-run rule.

In other games this week, the Warriors were tripped 3-2 by Belleville East Tuesday and downed Columbia 6-4 Monday.

The Warriors collected 12 hits and made only one error, as East St. Louis was held to four hits and committed three errors.

Parks was two-for-three at bat and drove in three runs. Don Harris was on base in the first inning when Parks hit his first four-bagger. The second home run was hit in the third.

Sophomore John Stanton went all the way Wednesday for the Warriors, hurling 10 strike outs and walking three in the five innings.

The Warriors scored three runs in the first inning, two in the second, four in the third, two in the fourth and two in the fifth. East Side scored two runs in the second and one in the fourth.

Harris was three-for-four at bat and Jim Forrester was two-for-four at bat and Jim Forrester was two-for-four at bat with three RBIs.

The Warriors are now 14-9 overall and 5-4 in the Southwestern Conference.

In stopping the Warriors, Belleville East totaled five hits and one error. The Warriors had four hits and two errors.

Granite City made a strong comeback in the seventh inning as they were behind 3-0. Parks hit a home run with the bases empty, the next four men walked, and the Warriors died with bases loaded.

Ned Tipp, a senior, went all the way on the mound for Granite City, striking out three and walking one.

In Monday's game at Columbia, the Warriors blasted seven hits and committed three errors.

Columbia out-hit the Warriors with 10 but made five errors.

On the mound for the Warriors was Vic Renack who was all the way, Renack was also one-for-three at bat.

"Our pitching must improve before we go to the tournaments or we'll be wiped out," Coach Gale Garbe said. "Renack does fine but we need more than one pitcher that can stay in the game."

Harris continued to lead the Warriors at bat; he was two-for-four Monday, raising his average to .444 at that time.

The Warriors travel to Belleville Althoff today for a game at 4 p.m., will host Madison Friday and will entertain Normandy in a double header at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Rouland Hits Par, Warriors Finish 2nd

GCHS golfers were edged 157-139 by Mascoutah but led Leaning's 187 in a triangular meet Monday at Locust Hills' par-36 course in Lebanon.

The Warriors lost 157-172 to Belleville West yesterday on the par-35 Triple Lakes links near Belleville.

Dave Rouland parred the front nine at Lebanon, with Gary Zimmer totaling 38, Pete Litz 40 and Mark Speer 46. Bruce Lattimore carded a 43. Yesterday, Rouland fired a 41, Jack Eagles 43 and Zimmer and Mike Willis, 44; Lattimore had a 47 and Speer and Litz, 50.

The Warriors travel to Alton today for a 4 p.m. match.

Braves Sweep Past Cahokia In Track Meet

Coolidge Junior High School's Braves left no doubt who was superior in track Tuesday as they swept Cahokia 97-21.

It appeared as though Coolidge was going to sweep first places in every event until Jim McKinney and Gerry Sedabares got nipped in a photo finish in the 100-yard dash.

Coolidge had sweeps in the century with Dale Williams and Larry Haddix continuing their one-two punch in the sprints with 10.6 and 10.7 respectively, and Mike Francis turned in 11.2 for Dale.

Dale Livingston, John Lignel and Dan Groupe swept the half-mile in 2 minutes, 13.4 seconds. Haddix, Dale Williams and Reubenaum blanketed the 220 with Haddix turning in a speedy 24.5, while the 880 and mile relay teams remained undefeated.

Other first place winners: Gaggus and Sedabares had a dead heat in the 100 hurdles in 1:6.2, Walt Milton in the 440, Bob Higgins, Jeff Cox and Dan Stanburger in the shot put in 47 feet 11 inches; D. Williams, Sedabares and Reubenaum in the long jump at 17 feet, 11 1/2 inches; Grupe in the vault at 10 feet, and Keith Holts took second with nine feet, 6 inches. False Impression That Lake Is State Park: Hastings

"We are having problems at Horseshoe Lake with persons under the mistaken impression that the lake is already a state park. This is not true as yet," State Conservation Officer Donald Hastings of Madison County told the Press-Record today.

"There is no place on Horseshoe Lake where you can boat, fish or hunt that is not private property on which permission must be obtained."

Foster won the high jump at 4-6 and Larry Evans and Ben Gordon were second and third in the long jump at 17-2 and 15-2.

Eugene Patton and Gordon took second and third in the two-mile run and Harvey Lee and Gordon claimed the same spots in the 180 low hurdles. Patton and Willie Shearry were second and third in the pole vault.

The 880 relay, Bobby Simms, John Newsome, Larry Evans and Robert Pryor, won in 1:41.6 and the mile relay of Foster, Newsome, Evans and Wilson won in 3:52.5.

"The rest of the lake is not open to the public in any way. Under the fish and game code of the state it is not necessary that a property owner display signs but the law places the entire responsibility upon the fisherman and hunter to determine ownership and seek their permission before entering upon any land or fishing in any water."

"Those who do obtain permission to boat must restrict themselves strictly to the water on which they have permission and do not have freedom to

Mrs. Rosalie Jenkins, 1215 Calhoun Ave., Venice, told police at 4:30 p.m. Monday she left her purse in the Madison Landromat, 608 Madison Ave., and when she returned it was missing. She found the purse lying near the First National Bank in Madison but her wallet had been removed. In the wallet were $45 in food stamps, $20 cash and personal papers, she said.

Thieves entered and ransacked the apartment of Glenda Vinton, 2151a E. 24th St., reported at 1:30 p.m. Monday that someone entered her apartment by reaching through a front door opening to unlock it. Nothing was missing, but the apartment was ransacked.

GC Park Board to Reorganize May 5

The Granite City Park Board will hold its annual reorganization meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Wilson Park office, Board Secretary Frank Rea said today.

Next week's session will replace the park commissioners usual meeting held on the second Wednesday of each month.

A brief meeting of the board was held last evening in which general fiscal transactions were completed, Rea said.

It was announced that no change in vote totals resulted from a canvass made last week following the April 20 park district election when two incumbent commissioners, Barry Leaman and Henry Gabriel, were re-elected without opposition.

$161,075 Budget; Henry Bieniecki Selected Nameoki Highway Law Day Award Winner

Allocation Next

The Nameoki Town Board approved Monday night a 1971-72 budget for the town fund and general assistance fund and announced that a new budget for the township highway department will be posted soon by Albert Bell, newly elected highway commissioner.

The board approved a town budget of $83,945 and general assistance fund appropriation of $79,680. At the same time, board officials approved an appropriation of $12,450 for the office of Edgar Patrick, township collector. Electors no longer take the final budget action.

Bell's new budget will be posted for 30 days and then adopted by town officials for a revised fiscal year that is the same as that for other township operations.

In the past, the town fund and general assistance fund have operated during a fiscal year beginning on March 15 of each year and ending with the close of the following year, while the road and bridge fund and permanent hard road fund budgets of the highway commissioners have covered a fiscal year from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31 of each year.

Officials Begin Terms
Monday night's meeting initiated the terms of Louis Whitsett, former town clerk, who was elected township supervisor in the April 6 balloting, and Bell, who was elected highway commissioner to replace Charles Hanks who did not seek re-election.

Douglas Teator, newly appointed town clerk who replaced Whitsett last post, also served in that post for the first time Monday night, as did Town Auditor Eugene Gargac.

Hanks completed his term Saturday, with Bell taking over the highway department duties on Monday.

The board initiated a new practice of beginning each year board meeting with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Board members agreed to pay the present system of paying claims by requiring two signatures on all checks paid out of either the town fund or general assistance fund. Whitsett said that hereafter all checks will be co-signed by himself and by Teator as town clerk.

Gargac, appointed as a town board member when Teator was elevated to town clerk, was appointed as chairman of the mosquito abatement committee.

Plans also were announced to check all Quad-City area banks for interest rate offers in an attempt to secure the greatest possible income from town savings funds when they are available for investment.

Henry Bieniecki, chairman of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, will be presented with the Liberty Bell award for his work in air pollution control by the Tri City Bar Association at a dinner tonight at the Rose Bowl Restaurant.

Alan Walker, chairman of the Tri-City Bar Association, announced the award recipient. The award is made annually in connection with Law Day observed on May 1.

Bieniecki was named to the Air Pollution Control Board in May 1968 and was elected on Jan. 11, 1967, to serve as chairman of the board.

He is employed as an engineer with McDonnell Aircraft Corp. and previously was employed as an engineer with General Steel Industries until 1962.

A 1940 graduate of Granite City High School he has B.S. and M.S. degrees in mechanical engineering and an M.S. in applied mechanics.

On Monday, during the meeting, town board members authorized Bell to purchase certain tools for the highway department garage.

Hanks said all tools and equipment were turned over to town board members during the weekend when he, Whitsett and Teator made an inventory. Hanks said he obtained a receipt from Whitsett and Teator in which they accepted the inventory.

Willow, Woodlawn Signs
The Granite City council Monday night approved two more traffic controls, both for locations where there are no existing traffic stops. The action calls for establishing stop signs on Willow Avenue at Edgewood, and on Woodlawn Avenue at Franklin Avenue.

Other provisions include cost-of-living increases, holidays, vacations, insurance and pensions, Buddy Davis, business agent for the USWA's Granite City subdistrict office, said.

The negotiating team, in addition to Davis, included Robert Means, also a UWA representative, and Marcel McDaniel of Granite City and Kenneth Wagner and William Simpson, both of Wood River, plant employees.

The union at Chemico has not yet been issued a local number, Davis said.

On the return trip American flags will stay with the unit.

A program to be presented at the state park will mark the 167th anniversary of the Lewis and Clark expedition. At the time of registration, leaders will receive a souvenir streamer for their unit flag pole. An 8-color embroidered emblem is available for every one participating in the pilgrimage and a special 9-color emblem will be available to those who are repeating the pilgrimage.

Report Urges Early Plan To Replace HS Auditorium

Plans for rebuilding the Granite City High School auditorium, or for other uses to which the area may be put, should be developed as soon as possible to avoid further damage of the building interior exposed to the weather, the Granite City school board was informed Monday night.

The recommendation was contained in a final report of damages caused by the Nov. 30 fire which virtually destroyed the auditorium and damaged another section of the building housing several classrooms.

Board members accepted the damage report prepared by R. W. MacDermott - Associates, structural engineers of Kirkwood, Mo. and voted to forward a copy to the professional appraising firm of Marshall-Stevens. The report will be used for determination of a damage estimate and an insurance settlement.

The structural engineer's report listed no dollar loss, but described in detail the specific areas damaged and made recommendations for repair of damaged areas and replacement of demolished areas, such as the auditorium.

Balcony Usable
The report says the auditorium area sustained the major damage, but that with repairs the balcony would be sound and reusable. The report suggested that repair and utilization of the balcony would be more economical than having it demolished.

The report, signed by Robert W. MacDermott, said: "I feel that a decision should be made on (rebuilding of) the Auditorium area as soon as possible, as the longer the walls, balcony and floor joists are exposed to the weather, more damage to these items will occur requiring additional repairs."

It states also, "I believe this area should be thoroughly studied as to what use this area would be best suited, in the overall operation of the school. To merely replace what was there yields an entirely too large stage area (including the backstage space) and a seating capacity well under what would be desirable for the population of the school."

The report asserts that classrooms 26A and 26B near the auditorium are sound but will require plaster repair, new windows and a new permanent roof this summer. Damage to the principal's office and counseling rooms will require new plaster and flooring. A new suspended ceiling for those rooms was suggested in the report.

In the boiler room, where damage included a cracked steel beam, the report suggests a second beam be installed under the original beam and the roofing be replaced.

To Replace Skylight
The boys and girls locker rooms sustained only minor damage, the report said, and only the skylight fixtures will require replacing.

It explains that the full damage from water will not be known until this summer when the building interior has thoroughly dried. Until that time, floors may buckle and plaster may continue to crack and fall off in areas where the walls and ceilings absorbed a large amount of water.

In several areas of the report, the engineers commented that portions of the damaged building had not been built according to specifications and drawings, and these variations may have had an effect on the walls, balcony and floor joists.

The lack of fireproofing in the destroyed auditorium also was mentioned and emphasis was placed on fireproofing any replaced structure.

Acre of Art Show to Feature Student Work

Approximately 13,000 pieces of art work prepared by pupils of kindergarten to grade 12 in Granite City schools will be on display at the annual Acre of Art Show Monday in the Memorial gymnasium.

Eugene Alassi, supervisory consultant for art education of Granite City Schools, said the show is for viewing the exhibit will be from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Admission is free but volunteer contributions will be accepted. Proceeds of the contributions are used by the Parent-Teacher Association to provide a cash scholarship for a graduating senior art student.

The show is sponsored by the area Parent-Teacher Association and the Art Education Department of Granite City.

Different types of art creations will include oils, charcoal, tempera, pencil, and other forms. There will be no judging of the works.

Although none of the paintings or art works are priced for sale, anyone wishing to purchase an item may do so through the student.

Hedge Buying Boosting Raw Steel Production

Domestic raw steel production during the first quarter of 1971 topped last year's first quarter by more than a million tons due in large part to consumer hedge buying of finished steel products.

Demand from steel users—stockpiling against a possible industry shutdown when the current labor contract runs out this summer—helped push steel production in the U. S. to 34,793,000 tons in the first quarter of 1971, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

This compares with the 33,627,000 tons of steel poured in the United States during the first three months of last year.

In March 1971, steel production totaled 12,645,000 tons, compared with output of 11,856,000 tons in the same month of 1970.

Basic oxygen furnaces produced almost as much steel as all electric and open hearth furnaces combined during the first three months of this year.

BOF January through March output was 17,240,000 tons, compared with 11,793,000 tons for open hearths and 5,761,000 tons for electric furnaces.

In the same three-month period of 1970, BOFs poured 15,173,000 tons of steel, while open hearth production reached 13,252,000 tons and electric furnace output 5,221,000 tons.

ASTI's steelmaking index, based on averaged production during 1967 as 100, hit 117.0 in March, compared with 111.4 in February. The March 1970 index was 110.0.

GC Hair Stylists Win Honors at Alton Show

Fred McCollegan, representing the Razor's Edge Barber Shop, won the grand prize trophy by earning the highest total points in three competitive divisions of the Southern Illinois Barber and Hair Styling show held during the weekend in Alton.

He received first place in the sculpture-cut division and second place in both the fashion-cut and free-style competition. Michael Baker of Granite City, also a barber at the Razor's Edge Barber Shop, was awarded third place in the free-style competition.

Norman Brokaw, owner of the Razor's Edge, served as program director of the show with Charles Hayden, contest chairman. Raymond Herren, floor director, the latter two from the Alton area. Roger Bechhold, representing the House of Charles barber shop in Belleville, was second in total points, losing to McCollegan by one-half point.

Language Workshop Set in Five Sessions

A National Defense Education Act language arts workshop for grades 7 and 8, will be sponsored by Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, Superintendent of Madison County Educational Service Region, and the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The workshop will consist of five sessions of two hours each to be held from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday, May 10; Wednesday, May 12; Monday, May 17; Wednesday, May 19, and Monday, May 24.

The workshop will be conducted in Room 118 at North Junior High School, 1841 N. Madison St., Collinsville. The instructor will be Mrs. James R. Meyer, curriculum co-ordinator of Ennis-Harmony District 175.

No college credit is awarded for attending this workshop but a certificate of participation is awarded. There will be no pre-registration.

Car Gear Released; Rolls Into Second Auto

An auto owned by Mrs. Nora W. Madinger, 270 Center St., parked on the National Food Store lot at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues, was damaged during the weekend when a second vehicle rolled down a slight incline and struck the side of the unoccupied Madinger car.

Driver of the second auto, William Cagle, 38, of 2107 Fourteenth St., said the mishap occurred while he and his wife were shopping in the store and one of their four children left in the auto released the gear shift causing the car to roll forward.

Groups of 25 or More Need Permits at Parks
Groups of more than 25 persons must obtain permits before visiting state parks. Supl. Ronald D. Johnson of parks and memorials said the ruling, inaugurated last summer, resulted in better distribution of visitors in state parks and conservation areas, improved security and facilitated planning for special events. One adult must accompany each 15 young people, he added.

Applications giving the number in the group, the park to be visited, the date and arrival time should be made to local park rangers.

Strikes Parked Cars

The auto of James Jackson, St. Louis, westbound on Douglas Street in Venice, struck the parked auto of Cleo Williams, 315 Weaver St., Madison, in the 1000 block of Douglas at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday, police reported. The Williams auto moved forward and struck the parked auto of Willie L. Williams, 601 W. Third St., Madison. The rear ends of the Williams autos and the right front of the Jackson car were damaged.

Means of Teaching Environment Explored

Various means to accelerate the teaching of conservation and environmental education subjects throughout the state are being explored. State Conservation Director Henry N. Barkhausen reports.

He said a joint effort has begun with preliminary talks by representatives of the Illinois Wildlife Federation, the Wildlife Endowment Fund, the State Department of Conservation and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"The two private and two state agencies have cosponsored winter conservation workshops in the past, with cooperation of Southern Illinois University. The Department of Conservation has worked with the federation in various summer workshop programs."

"But the present effort marks a unique, cooperative approach toward getting conservation education into the schools on a regular curriculum basis," Barkhausen said.

The initial discussion covered topics as teacher instruction, curricula, environmental aspects in classrooms, the annual winter workshop at SIU, Carbondale, and the summer workshops at Western Illinois University, Macomb.

Talks will be continued, with the forming of a framework for a statewide program.

at the home of Jug Moore. Plans for the annual Roca dinner and other visual aids, and performances will be July 9, 10, 16 and 17. The theme will be various aspects of teenage life.

DeMolays Attend State Congress at Peoria

Twelve members of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, attended the spring DeMolay state Congress this week at Peoria and were assigned to committees.

Charles Hileman, state senator, chaired the state programming committee. Approved at the Congress was an agreement to lower the petition age to 15 effective tomorrow, for a trial period of two years.

A boy now must be 14 to be eligible for membership. The local chapter was authorized to host the state track meet in June. A state sports jamboree was set for June 26-27 at Western Illinois University, Macomb.

Attending were Gary Bogovich, Paul Boyer, Karl Ebrecht, Steven Ebrecht, Bruce Hawkins, Charles Hileman, Stephen Hileman, William Karius, David Ledbetter, Gary Marsala, Tony Welch and William Wittkamp. They were accompanied by advisors Robert Maxwell and Charles Meyer.

Students at SIU to Benefit from Bequest

Southern Illinois University students will be the beneficiaries of a bequest from the late Edna Cox Morey of Urbana, wife of Lloyd Morey, former comptroller and for a time president of the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Morey bequeathed one-eighth of her estate to the SIU Foundation as a permanent endowment fund, the income to provide scholarships for worthy students, according to Kenneth Beaman, Foundation estate planning director. Pending final inventory, the estate is estimated at about $75,000.

The fund is to be known as the Lloyd and Edna Morey Scholarship Fund. SIU was one of four universities to share equally in Mrs. Morey's will, the others being Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., Bradley University, Peoria, and the University of Illinois.

Recommendations and information must be forwarded to the Scholarship Foundation by Wednesday, May 12. No applications will be accepted after the May 5 date.

The organization selects recipients upon the basis of financial need, scholastic ability and purpose of pursuing collegiate education. First consideration is given to students entering the freshman year of college.

Necessary forms are available from Miss Lynch in the school library, or from Mr. McConeky or Miss Selma Nelson, counselors.

If there are no numbers on the tape deck, students should mark the unit in some way to provide identification in case of theft, Foster said.

"These tape decks are prime targets for theft. We must have some way of identifying who the owner is when we recover stolen goods. Identification by number, brand name or some marking is essential," Foster stated.

Students Asked to Mark Stereos, Tapes

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, Chief of Security Carl Foster has requested that students provide help to officials in keeping down thefts of car stereo tape decks.

He is asking students to keep cars locked, lock loose tapes in trunks of cars, and keep a record of brand names of tape decks and any identification numbers on the component.

If there are no numbers on the tape deck, students should mark the unit in some way to provide identification in case of theft, Foster said.

McKendree Fund Drive to Extend Through State

Duane W. Amburn, director of development for McKendree College, has announced that the "McKendree Faces the Future" fund drive is starting its statewide campaign.

Amburn said: "We are wrapping up our local area drive and will start concentrating on the state effort now. Six meetings have been set up so far across and up and down the state. Our alumni association also will be involved in the fund drive."

Jacksonville, will be the group chairman directing this crusade. Kickoff dinners will be held in Jacksonville, Springfield, Olney, Mt. Vernon, Harrisburg and Carbondale through May. Fund drive dinners will be held in Decatur, Robinson, Effingham and the Chicago area. Counties and towns surrounding each of the kickoff cities will also be involved in the fund drive, raising activities.

The statewide campaign will be handled similarly to the local area one. Chairmen will be appointed. Then they will select captains and workers. Three weeks in each area have been allotted to the drive. Besides an ideal base of alumni and church workers, community leaders will join as well in a team effort for the "McKendree Faces the Future" campaign.

The statewide drive will be coordinated through the College Campaign Office in Lebanon. "McKendree Faces the Future" is the college fund drive which has the goal of raising $300,000 for the current operating budget by July 1 of this year. Lt. Gov. Paul Simon is honorary chairman and Rube Yelvington is general chairman; $45,752 has been raised.

Warnhoff Named Illinois Jaycee V.P.

Earl Warnhoff, vice-president of the Granite City Jaycees and current secretary of the local young men's service club, has been elected vice-president of the Illinois Jaycees state organization.

Warnhoff was among four state vice-presidents named during the weekend at the Southwest Region board meeting at Highland. Other successful candidates were Terry Riffel, Highland, Donald Landrum, Stanton and Mark Jordan of Fairview Heights.

Heading the election ticket was selection of national director from the Southwest Region, with the post won by Jim Cook of Collinsville in the defeated candidates from Stanton and Wood River. National regional secretary-treasurer was Jerry Haselhorst of Alton.

A spirited campaign was waged by all candidates for state and national office among the conference delegates who represented 33 Jaycee chapters. The Southwest Region Jaycees clubs in eight Illinois counties, four townships and portions of two other counties. Active in the Granite City Jaycees since 1965, Warnhoff has held the office of club treasurer, two terms as director and two terms as sergeant-at-arms, in addition to his present secretarial post. He also served as secretary-treasurer of the Southwest Region and held a region chairmanship.

He is employed at A. O. Smith Corp. as a maintenance scheduler and resides at 907 Twenty-Fourth St., with his wife, Diana, and 4-year-old daughter, Becky.

SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGNER. Earl Warnhoff of the Granite City Jaycees, at left, pins a campaign button promoting his candidacy for state vice-president at an Edwardsville Jaycee delegates attending the Southwest Region board meeting. The local man was elected to state office at the Jaycees' weekend conference in Highland.

Warnhoff has received several honors during his service with the Jaycee group. Awards include Spark-Plug, Speak-Up Laymen, League and as vice-president of Zone 3 of the Luan four times; Active Jaycee Award, Spoke and Five-Year Award; and the Jaycee Presidential and midwestern continental Award of Honor which recognizes pertaining to the Jaycee earned on two occasions.

Mobile Home Park Control Code Is Adopted 31 to 16

The Madison County Board of Supervisors adopted a mobile home park licensing and control code by a vote of 31-16 at its April meeting Tuesday morning in the courthouse at Edwardsville. It will take effect July 1.

The vote on the measure, first introduced by two anti-mobile home park residents, came following a debate of an hour and a quarter in which former pro and con arguments were reviewed.

The code, developed with the aid of the Southwest Illinois Area Planning Commission, contains two changes causing requirements from a previous proposal.

The license fee for each pad in a mobile home park was reduced to $10 a year following a previous figure of $50, and the park operator to pay an overall $50 fee for the court itself.

Stricter than State—Strictly that of the state, the code is intended to update home parks in the county.

Some members opposed it as being too stringent and favored a delay to iron out administrative details and zoning amendments to force improvements on some of the trailer courts in the county, especially those believed to be in violation of health standards.

Dan Churchoff of Granite City, supervisor of the county, said that "we have trailer courts which are substandard. The state now is willing for the county to inspect and control them. We can upgrade the trailer courts. We can do a much better job than has been done or is being done."

$30,000 for County—"We are talking about a fee of $10 a year on each trailer space," it would mean about $30,000 for the county.

If the operator raises his rent $1 per month, it would give him another $2 a year profit.

Some places with cesspools are in violation of state law. We can be doing the operators of better courts a favor and we can upgrade the image of trailers with a little elbow-grease."

Enforce Zoning—A decision was held on enforcement of the zoning ordinance on a complaint of smoke pollution from a dump fire in Wood River Township.

Jack Clifford, zoning administrator, said the ordinance cannot be retroactive and suggested that the board go to the legislature for authority to change the provisions.

Churchoff noted that Granite City "has similar problems, and we don't have any answer for it."

Roger Elble, Wood River Township supervisor, said that "people laugh at zoning and zoning is the backbone of the zoning board." He referred to a case in which the court overruled the board in a residential area of his township, where a contractor is operating heavy equipment on residential streets.

Evidence Elusive—Smith said "I don't know how many minor violations like junk yards there are. But where do you get the evidence to prosecute? The judge can do nothing else."

Clifford said he is ready to present 37 cases to the state's attorney's office for prosecution.

"I've got one man working on violation throughout the county," Clifford said, "and even at a negative guilty plea, it takes three hours—and longer with a jury trial."

Gible replied "In Madison County, the guilty go free and the people who are trying to do right are being injured by our judicial system."

In other action, the board: Increased landfill inspection fees from $5 to $10.

Agreed to a proposal by Dale Kennedy, Godfrey supervisor, to study sharing of county sales tax funds with townships as a result of reduced assessed valuations through Homestead Act exemptions and other moves.

The steering committee is to report at the July meeting.

Nike Site Purchase—Delayed consideration of a vacant industrial site adjacent to the Civil Defense building upon receiving a report from Walter Sparks, Clouette supervisor, that the CD committee is negotiating with the U. S. General Services Administration to purchase about 19 acres of the old Marine Nike base.

That site contains three buildings one of which would be suitable to store the voting machines, Sparks said.

He said the county is completing the purchase of the Nike missile area, also containing 19 acres, for $27,000, and the GSA has indicated the adjacent area could be cheaper.

No 'Pig in Poke'—"We wouldn't be 'buying a pig in a poke' if it were anything," we would make money."

Senior Citizens Housing Plans Move in Madison

Possible locations for development of a housing program for senior citizens in Madison were discussed at a meeting held last night at the City Hall.

Sites in various parts of the city were considered by Mayor Mike Sasyk, members of the Citizens Advisory Committee, City Plan Commission and aldermen at the first meeting of the groups on the project.

Mayor Sasyk said that housing for a minimum of 100 persons is involved and that any type of structure, low or high rise, can be developed.

Though the federal government would provide 100% financing, the housing development would be owned and operated by a non-profit corporation composed of six or seven persons, the mayor said.

SIU-SW Dental School Plans 3-Year Program—The new School of Dental Medicine at SIU-SW today announced its professional program will be three calendar years in length.

Students will receive the Doctor of Dental Medicine degree by going to the School 47 weeks per year for three years rather than going nine months per year for four years. Plans now call for an initial class of 24 students, to be enrolled at facilities at SIU's Alton Center.

The class size will be increased when a permanent building for the School of Dental Medicine is completed at SIU's Southwestern campus.

Consider

ceed with the Wein site as a second high school.

Some Rooms Substandard—"This finding should not be construed to mean that we are out of the woods" as far as our elementary facilities are concerned.

"Our schools have reported the use of as many as 27 substandard classrooms, and many of our schools use dual gymnasium facilities, have no libraries, have no vocal rooms, and do not have the rooms to house special education classes that are now in demand."

"The survey of 1964 stated, 'Even though the primary responsibility of this committee deals with a site in the Mitchell-Namecki area, it would be well to mention the fact that the future growth in residential development will be in the Mitchell-Stallings area.'"

"That committee suggested that consideration be given to that area as a future elementary site. Since that time, the housing has slowed and growth is static. However, the Stallings, Lake and Parkview areas are still in demand."

Would an "instant" new high school—this construction would take many months, of course — be adequate? Planning in the past has included the desire to have both an old and new high school equally attractive and well equipped.

In establishing a second high school earlier than contemplated, the main difficulty would probably be in the areas of music instruction and physical education.

Lawn Care, Pruning Lilacs Stressed

By WAYNE B. SIEPERT
Area Extension Advisor,
Ornamental Horticulture

You can get off to a fast start in lawn care by fertilizing and close mowing.

Zoysia thrives when well fertilized to produce a rich blue-green carpet. Fertilizing in late April will stimulate early growth. When you mow off the dead straw by close cutting to 1/2 inch the new shoots quickly produce a green tone.

Close mowing and heavy fertilizing are the best defense against a putting green effect. Special mowers are often obtained to mow less than an inch.

If you can fertilize every month during the summer and mow twice a week your lawn will have extraordinary quality during the summer months.

Care of Lilacs—Lilacs will bloom better if you promptly prune the old flowers to prevent seed development.

Seed and next year's flowers both develop during June. Unless you promptly cut off the developing seed the plant will not develop adequate growth of new shoots to produce flowers next year.

Annual pruning will promote annual flowering while you control and remove unproductive stems.

French and Persian lilacs become overcrowded and overgrown unless you prune out occasional stems each year.

Thumb sized stems will be just as productive as larger stems if you give them space and sunlight. After blooming in May, prune out stems which are three years old, cut them off at ground level.

Thin out the young shoots so each has growing room and sunlight. A few minutes each year will produce an attractive plant near 6 feet tall.

Judicial Salary Inequity Suit Filed by Johnson

A suit aimed at the return of part of the salaries and pensions paid by the state judges in Cook County was filed Monday by Magistrate William Johnson of Madison County in Federal District Court at East St. Louis.

The complaint claims that special Illinois legislation which provides for higher salaries and benefits for Cook County than for judges in the other counties in the state is unconstitutional in both the old and new state constitutions.

Under the legislation, magistrates in Cook County are paid $23,000 a year, or $500 more than other magistrates, and circuit court judges are paid $35,000 a year, or $7,500 more than elsewhere.

Magistrate Johnson also asks for an injunction to block further payments of the higher salaries.

Defendants in the case are William Scott, attorney general; Alan Dixon, state treasurer; and Michael Howlett, state auditor.

Johnson, a magistrate here for six years, said he filed the suit in federal court because it would be impossible to get a fair trial in a state court.

He said judicial salaries in Cook County have always been higher, but that the constitution makes no distinction in pay between Cook County and downstate judges.

The suit complains that Johnson, as "a taxpayer outside Cook County contributing to the judges retirement system is being deprived of property without due process of law and equal protection of the law."

It maintains that Johnson and all other downstate judges perform identical work as Cook County judges and are subject to transfer to Cook County without receiving equal salary for service there.

Students, Officials to Mark Elks Youth Week

Five Granite City High School honor students will spend part of next Wednesday, May 5, with city officials as part of the local observance of Elks National Youth Week May 2-8, it was announced today.

Plans for the event were reviewed by Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City, William Howard Jr., exalted ruler of Elks Lodge 1063, and Ivon Pomeroy, Elks youth activities chairman.

The students, not yet selected, will symbolically assume the duties of Mayor Partney, City Clerk Robert Stevens, City Treasurer E. R. Rich, Police Chief Ronald Veizer and Fire Chief Earl Fronabarger.

In his proclamation for the week, Mayor Partney notes that "the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has designated May 2-8 as Youth Week to honor America's junior citizens for their accomplishments and to give fitting recognition and services to community, state and nation."

"Lodge 1063 will sponsor an observance during that week in tribute to the junior citizens of this community."

Blast Plant Worker Burned in Accident

Edward L. Gieszelmann, 39, of 2282 Watertown Ave., was taken to Barnes Hospital in St. Louis for treatment of first and second degree burns to his legs and left shoulder as the result of an accident at the Granite City Steel Co. Blast Furnace department Monday at 2:30 p.m.

Gieszelmann, a welder employed in the blast plant, was working with a pipe in the boiler house replacing a valve on a hot water line.

Apparently the pressure had not been turned off and hot water and steam struck the worker when the valve was released, a company spokesman said.

His condition is listed as not serious and he is expected to be released from the hospital to home.

Coolidge Band Wins First Rating at State Contest

A first superior rating for the fourth consecutive year was awarded to the Coolidge Junior High School band at the State Band Contest held during the weekend at Centralia, Ill.

Under direction of Robert D. Todoroff, the 92-piece band is composed of 7th, 8th and 9th grade students. The first superior rating is the highest obtainable for an outstanding performance.

The Junior High School band was acclaimed by the judges as "a most outstanding band that performed to perfection with spirit and maturity."

"Old Comrades," a march by Thieker; "Incidental Suite," by Smith; and "Proclamation," by Carter, were the three required selections the band performed.

High praise from the judges included such comments as that of Judge Henry Taylor who complimented the band on attention to style and said, "This is one of the best Junior High bands I've heard. Hard program, great program."

Judge William Knapp stated, "Spirit and technique facility most outstanding. A really difficult and mature program, double plus for handling new music."

Judge Harry Hart commended the outstanding technique, spirit and total maturity of the band in their presentations.

Accompanying the band to the contest were Calvin Bartels and Richard Yates, assistant principals, and James Dumont, principal of Coolidge Junior High School.

Co-operative vocational education in high schools in the state, a program which is in its initial stages, was discussed by Lloyd Campbell, Illinois Regional Director of Vocational Education, and James Brown, Director of Vocational Education at Oak Lawn High School.

Anti-Rabies Clinic Set May 11 in Madison

An anti-rabies inoculation clinic for dogs and cats will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 11, at the Madison city garage, it was announced at a city council meeting Tuesday night.

The clinic will be conducted by Dr. Leland Holt, a veterinarian, who will collect a $4 fee. Of the amount $1 is for a Madison County rabies tag.

At the meeting the council agreed to provide city licenses free of charge to pet owners at the clinic or when a certificate of inoculation is presented. The city previously charged a fee but residents mostly ignored the licensing ordinance, it was explained.

The clinic date was changed from Saturdays to a week day evening on the opinion that it would be more convenient generally to pet owners.

National Steel Corp. Earnings Show Drop

National Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, which said April 19 it hopes to merge with Granite City Steel Co., this week reported a 20% drop in January-March quarterly profits, from $13.2 million or 81 cents a share in the first quarter of 1970 to $10.6 million or 64 cents.

Chairman Philip D. Block predicted a second-quarter upturn. President George A. Stinson, questioned several times during the annual meeting on the merger proposal, said, "I'll have to ask you to bear with me in adhering to the position" of no further comment, because of the current antitrust review of the plan.

City Will Retain Office Of Chief of Detectives

The city council agreed Monday night not to abolish the rank of chief of detectives in the Granite City police department, approving unanimously a request by Police Local 1347 that the position be retained.

The action was taken on a motion by Alderman Roy Poulos, chairman of the Police Committee, after he presented a letter from Robert Astorian, president of the police union setting out six points upon which the union opposed elimination of the post.

Request to abolish the chief of detectives office was proposed to the city council April 12 by the Board of Police Commissioners. The board recommended the position be eliminated April 30 upon the retirement of Joseph Kastelic who has been serving in that office.

Astorian told the council that the union's objections to eliminating the rank was made known in a meeting April 21 between representatives of the union; Ralph Elliott and Miss Hetty Sheppard of the Board of Police Commissioners, and members of the council's police committee, Poulos, R. E. Robertson and Everett Moxen.

Change Not Justified

"We do not feel it is justifiable to take a rank of such importance away from our department and replace it with the creation of a lieutenant," the letter to the council said.

"By doing away with the chief of detectives rank, a situation would be created whereas the chief of police may appoint anyone whom he desires to be put in charge of the detective division," the letter continued, adding:

"It is unfair to the four lieutenants in our department for one of them not to be able to move into the chief of detectives position by written examination. It is unfair to the four lieutenants in our department, as they will only have one position in the future to move up to, and that will be the position of assistant chief of police, whereas now there are the two positions to compete.

"We feel that the chief of detectives has a great deal of responsibility and should be compensated for this responsibility. Putting a lieutenant on sergeant in charge of such a position would be unfair. Since the creation of the rank of chief of detectives, every officer having held that position has been rightly compensated.

"Why now, we ask, should this extra compensation be taken away from a position as complex as this one? With crime on the rise, greater work loads and case presentation, the position is a very demanding one of our city.

"We feel that if a lieutenant is capable of taking a written examination and qualifying to become chief of detectives, that this same man is surely qualified to move to the position of assistant chief of police."

AWARD WINNER. Curtis G. Small (right), editor and manager of the Harrisburg Daily Register, holds Arthur Darwin Jenkins Award for outstanding service to journalism in Southern Illinois which he received at the annual Journalism Week banquet on the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University. Donor of the award, Arthur Darwin Jenkins (center), is the publisher of three Illinois newspapers, the Mascoutah Herald, New Baden News and Clinton County News. Illinois Lt. Gov. Paul Simon (left) was featured speaker at the banquet.

SIU Foundation Committee Acquires Gifts

Several major gifts of technical equipment for various Southern Illinois University departments and divisions have been procured by the one-year-old business and industrial relations committee of the SIU Foundation, its chairman has reported to the Foundation board.

Gil Trimble of East St. Louis told the board his committee is preparing a booklet listing University services that are available to business and industrial firms in which information on new University projects and inventions can be made available to such firms in Illinois and the St. Louis area.

The committee also plans to work with the Foundation's estate planning committee in organizing workshops on estate management for business executives.

Aubrey Holmes of Springfield, chairman of the estate planning committee, reported that five wills have been drawn in the past nine months naming the University or the Foundation as beneficiary.

A number of new projects resulting from faculty research or invention have reached commercial developments, Ronald Hansen, chairman of the research and projects committee, reported. Hansen, who also is coordinator of research and projects for the University, said the committee's activity has increased 25% in the last year and a half.

The new projects, assigned to the Foundation by the researcher or inventor on a profit-sharing basis, include: Publication arranged with Interstate Printers & Publishers, Danville, of a book, "Introduction to Grain Marketing," by Walter Willis, professor of agricultural industries, Carbondale Campus.

Consumer Information Printing and publication of a series of leaflets on consumer information for low-income families by Karen Craig, coordinator of the School of Home Economics, Carbondale Campus.

Contract signed with Scott

Engineering Services of Pompano Beach, Fla., to market the Engine Measurement and Learning System invented by James Sullivan, assistant professor in the School of Technology, Carbondale Campus.

Manufacture and sale by the C. A. Staeling Co. of Chicago of the sudrometer — a device for measuring anxiety by recording the amount of perspiration on a person's fingertips — invented by Eugene J. Brutton, professor of speech pathology and audiology, Carbondale Campus.

A number of other projects and inventions have been accepted by the committee for studies of marketing potential and others revealing market potential are under consideration by prospective commercial licensees.

In addition to Foundation board members and staff, also present were University President Emeritus Doyte W. Morris, James Brown, chief of staff for the University Board of Trustees, and Board members Ivan Elliott of Carmi and Dr. Earl E. Walker of Harrisburg.

Percy, Stevenson Disagree Whether Too Much Power Is Going to Executive Branch

Following is the text of a conversation, announced this week, between Howard K. Smith of the American Broadcasting Co. and the two U. S. Senators from Illinois, Charles H. Percy, Republican, and Adlai E. Stevenson III, Democrat.

PERCY: Senator Stevenson and I are pleased to welcome a veteran correspondent, Howard K. Smith — 20 years with CBS, 10 years with ABC and, recently, An Hour's Conversation with the President of the United States. We're pleased to welcome you, Mr. Smith, the program is yours.

SMITH: Thank you, Senators. I would like to ask you both a very mean question. We are a nation ridden with problems and the problems are visibly getting worse day by day — pollution, crime, the decaying cities.

You are our decision-makers and problem-solvers. You've been here now in this session almost four months and from the behavior of Congress, one would think we had not a problem in the world except the SST and the filibuster. Don't you think that your organization, your body, should show more urgency and dispatch?

PERCY: I do, I think we've been slow this year in getting under way. Committees are meeting, of course. The new session of Congress is dependent upon the committee process to bring forth legislation.

But I think it's time to bite the bullet now and make some basic tough decisions here. I'd like to see us get under way.

SMITH: Senator Stevenson, you're new to this body, what do you think about that?

STEVENS: Well, I agree with you, Mr. Smith, but I think that there is more work, more activity to the Congress, than meets the public eye.

There's more going on than I think people are generally aware. And some of the activities of the Congress are aimed at improving the mechanism itself, the legislative process.

Many with whom I've discussed the matter of legislative efficiency share your concern, share the concern at large in the country about the responsiveness of the institution to all of the needs we face in the country. And we're making an effort.

We're making an effort in the Senate to process, for example, more expeditiously the appropriations and authorization bills. But, there's a limit to what can be done in just one body.

In the case of the appropriations bills, we have to wait before we can act on them until the House has acted. The House has to act — can only act — after the bills have come into the Executive Branch of the government.

There's a great deal of room for improvement. But, I must say, as a new member, it's a little bit more efficient than I had expected and there is some reform in the wind, too.

PERCY: I'd like to evidence, though, the fact that the end of the fiscal year will be here June 30.

SMITH: That's right. PERCY: We start the new fiscal year July 1. Very few agency and departments of government will even have their budget for the new year as they start. I think this is a disgraceful situation.

In addition, I wish we could get confirmation of the idea of having a girl page, a woman page on the floor of the Senate. We can't even get that decided. So, I'm not at all satisfied with the way the Congress, and the Senate are working today.

SMITH: Senator Percy, I spent part of last — no, week before last — with 17 mayors of 17 of our biggest cities. They didn't tell us anything we didn't know. But, coming from the men who sit in the bottomless pit of mayors' misery, their story was touching.

They need help and they need it badly. The cities are just withering as you watch. Newark looks like a city that World War II passed over.

Two things that they need badly are, some kind of revenue-sharing program — and you said you're waiting on the Executive, well, the Executive has already sent six programs to the Congress.

And, they'd like — some of the cities would like for the federal government to take over all welfare. What do you think of those two proposals?

PERCY: I think the cities have a right to expect the federal government to do more in the area of welfare.

Certainly, from a standpoint of national standards and administration, it makes sense.

Secondly, I think the cities are broke. They're bankrupt. In fact, I think it was the Vice-President that said the states are in the same condition.

The last time he was in Albany, he saw Nelson Rockefeller selling a pencil on the capitol steps. But, revenue-sharing is the only answer for that.

Also, the federal government is hard to reach. Executive reorganization is the answer to that.

The President has sent messages on both of those bills. We have the legislation here. It's up to us to act on it.

STEVENS: Well, I'd like to say, first of all, we have received messages, as you've indicated. In all cases we have not as yet received bills — legislation from the executive branch of government — so we can't even begin hearings on legislation until we have the legislation.

But there are also real differences of opinion within the country and within the Congress, about the merits of these proposals.

I hope that the proposals for executive reorganization and revenue-sharing will be taken up in the Congress. I expect they will.

I think there is a great deal of merit to these recommendations of the President. I know, I'm sure I'm going to quarrel with some particularly, for example, the provisions for eliminating the Department of Agriculture.

But on revenue-sharing, it's said frequently that all of the cities are suffering. Not all of the cities are suffering.

Some of them are suffering from very serious financial problems. One of the problems — difficulties — that I have with revenue-sharing is that it tends to distribute federal funds collected from the taxpayers at the federal level to other levels of government, indiscriminately.

To those who need and to those that don't need. Now, there may be alternatives to revenue-sharing that could do far more to help the people and the units of government in this country that really need the help than revenue-sharing.

We are coming up with alternatives — alternative means of facing up to national problems at the same time that we can help states and local government.

You mentioned one, welfare reform. Now, some of the initiatives in this case are coming from the Congress. Chairman Mills has been active, has made proposals.

I and other members of the Congress are working on our proposals, means by which the federal government can pick up all or at least a far larger portion of the expense of welfare in the country.

Reform the whole system by announcing the present system that we have. And, in the course of reforming welfare, eliminate some of the inducements to migration, particularly from southern areas into our already overcrowded cities.

This is one way of helping the cities. We could effectively help those units of local government that really need the help.

Illinois, for example, could gain up to three times as much money from federalized welfare reform as it could from general revenue-sharing.

In fact, the taxpayers of Illinois would only get back 64 cents for every dollar they contributed to general revenue-sharing. This is a state that needs help and wouldn't be getting it.

This is an alternative to federal revenue-sharing. This is a state that needs help and wouldn't be getting it. PERCY: Just one point, there. The President has sent up the legislation on executive reorganization. I know he introduced all four bills into the Senate.

STEVENS: I was including executive reorganization and special and general revenue-sharing. We don't have all of the bills.

PERCY: I think for the most part, the President has followed through very quickly this time. In contrast to past practice, with legislation that's followed the introduction of his measures and his general speech.

So that it's up to Congress. The monkey's on our back right now, so to speak.

STEVENS: Well, that's good. Last time, though, I think you'd agree that the responsibility for much of the delay was at least shared between a tardy executive branch and a tardy legislative branch.

PERCY: And, this is why the President insisted that when he gives his speech on executive reorganization, because he was criticized before, he wanted that legislation introduced immediately and I only delayed it a few hours.

Democrat the chance to co-sponsor it; they did, many of them.

But we're ready to go now; we're ready to conduct hearings. The executive branch is ready to act.

SMITH: This is not a drastic change of subject. It actually deals with part of your disagreement for the executive branch.

Senator Fulbright says Congress no longer has any influence over foreign policy, has none at all left.

Senator Ervin is holding hearings on thirteen billion dollars and the President has impounded and is not spending, which delegates from Congress's power of the purse.

Are you worried about the President assuming too much power and the Congress being left with too little?

PERCY: Oh, I think you always think that Congress should take the attitude that the executive branch has too much power, whether it's Democrat or Republican. This is always — this was true in Roosevelt's days; it was true before that and after it.

That's our watch-dog responsibility. And it's perfectly proper for Senator Ervin to question why, once we've appropriated the funds, the executive branch doesn't spend those funds.

But, this is the check and balance — and I do feel that Congress does exert an influence in foreign policy.

I could specifically state many cases where we have been able to exercise our judgment — just on national commitments alone. Now the President does report annually on all commitments that have been made by the executive branch where before they didn't do it.

STEVENS: Well, I'm very concerned, Mr. Smith. It may be true that the process of centralization of power within the executive branch of the government started — at least I believe that was the exception Senator Percy used — during the Roosevelt period.

It may have started or gained some impetus then, but it has continued since then. And I think it's gained a lot of impetus notwithstanding all the protestations about decentralization, getting government back to the people during this Administration.

We have now, for example, Mr. Kissinger in the White House with more power than ever before over the implementation and the conduct and the making of foreign policy.

We see power moving from all of the departments, the Department of State included, but from all of the traditional departments of the executive branch into the White House where — this is perhaps the crux of the matter — where it's not accountable to the Congress, or to the people or to the press. It's dealt with Presidential immunity.

We can talk about the role of the Congress in foreign affairs. Many of us wonder what good it does us to call before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the Secretary of State.

We're not convinced anyone that he knows what's going on or that he has the real responsibility for the conduct of our foreign policy.

SMITH: Do you think Kissinger has more power as against Rogers than Colonel House had — or Harry Hopkins?

STEVENS: Yes, I certainly do. He has a huge machine. He has — how many employees did Colonel House have? This is a huge machine.

He has the National Security Council. Colonel House didn't have it.

PERCY: Well, relative to the size of the State Department.

STEVENS: And he didn't have the Domestic Counselor, too, Mr. Ehrlichman.

We've got a counselor, at least I think, who is a rank of new counselor, which is a whole new office on trade.

It goes on and on and on with all of the power coming out of the departments in the White House and unaccountable to the Congress, to the people.

PERCY: I think this is why the President has asked for a reform of the executive structure, to give real power to four functional departments and not have a Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Agriculture, all of which deal with the economy.

He wants a Secretary for Economic Activities and now we're up to us to respond to these criticisms.

STEVENS: Well, it also raises the question. PERCY: The President has responded; it's up to us to act. And I invite you to be a co-sponsor of these bills.

STEVENS: I want to hear you out very carefully. As I've already indicated I'm sympathetic.

But again, there's more evidence of centralization instead of the eight or eleven or whatever the number is now, departments, we're going to end up with four departments and more centralization within the executive.

PERCY: I'd like to say this: The criticism that's been made of Secretary of State Rogers I think is ill-founded. Anytime the Congress feels he doesn't know what's going on or doesn't have power, all they have to do is invite him. He came up here and addressed 85 senators on the Midwest and there wasn't a word of criticism after that.

There was plenty before, but those senators who heard him for several hours explain what this Administration is doing in the Middle East were totally and completely satisfied that that situation, knew what was going on and, for the most part, they supported that policy. This is not an unknowable man.

STEVENS: We didn't express criticism. I think we did express some sympathy.

SMITH: Senator Fulbright is going to start hearings on how to end the war in Vietnam. What's your idea? How do you answer that question if he put it to you?

PERCY: Perfectly proper for him to hold hearings and think we are ending the war in Vietnam; we are getting out. I think we must accelerate that process.

But the President, so far as I can see, is the only man that could have gotten us out as he already has.

STEVENS: I'm for a terminal date. I want to see the withdrawals accelerated. I also want to see more emphasis on the possibilities of political settlement.

Handbook on Ecology Released by Simon

A brochure titled "Ecology Handbook for Consumers and Homeowners" has been released by Illinois Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon in observance of "Earth Day."

Simon said the 10-page pamphlet represents a compilation of the best suggestions offered by his office's Environmental Task Force and professionals in the field of ecology.

In his distribution of the handbook, Simon said: "I found in researching this area that there are few publications which in simple language outline practical steps for consumers and homeowners to help save our environment. We are hopeful, therefore, that this 10-page pamphlet will meet the needs of thousands of Illinois citizens who are personally interested in combating pollution."

"Mail which I receive as the State's volunteer ombudsman has shown that many of the citizens of our state are interested in fighting pollution year-around, not just on a hit or miss basis. This pamphlet — offers practical methods of doing so."

"If you are interested in obtaining a copy of this pamphlet, write me—Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon, Room 225, State Capitol, Springfield, Ill. 62706. This brochure is printed at no expense to the taxpayers."

LAWN MOWER EQUIPMENT

If you were going to design a lawn mower, where would you put the grass catcher?

On the right side, so it bumps into whatever's sticking up on your right? On the left side, so it does the same there? The fact is, most grass bags are afterthoughts. They stick out to one side. They simply weren't designed to be part of the mower.

The Snapper V-21 or 18 has its grass bag between the handles. You can close trim on both sides, and vacuum your lawn while you're mowing. And the bag holds three times as much grass. We designed it that way.

In fact, all the good things about Snapper V-21 or 18 are logical. The result of sound design and planning by people who make lawn equipment and only lawn equipment. Not afterthoughts.

Most of Major and Minor Articles in This Newspaper Appear in No Other Publication

An example of how the Press-Record is attempting to serve its readers is provided by the April 26 edition. The top four articles—re-

Somebody in the newspaper business once described his product in this way: "We're sometimes proud of it, seldom ashamed of it and never satisfied." This sums up our attitude—eager to improve further, but aware that a considerable degree of thoroughness is being achieved.

Bigger and better things are in store for the future. For the present, we can say with sincerity that no other news organization is devoting even a small fraction of the time and effort which regularly go into our coverage. It is literally true that the vast majority of our news appears nowhere else but in the Press-Record.

Whether this approach would work for everyone probably could be debated. But where you are Jack Nicklaus, the most consistent golfer alive these days, it can win you the Tournament of Champions. It did for him, with a 25-15 victory over Gary Player.

Well ahead after the first three days, he ignored the other scores until the 16th hole of the final round, finishing with a nine-under-par 279 and an eight-stroke victory over Gary Player, Bruce Devlin and Dave Stockton.

One wonders how successful a person might be in other endeavors if, at least part of the time, he forgot how much or how little others were doing and did his level best while competing against an intangible ideal—seeking the ultimate level of quality in his performance regardless of what that maximum might prove to be.

It might not work in every instance; four-minute milers, for example, find they usually need the prodding of close competition in order

But the pursuit of excellence as an end in itself, without one's attention being diverted by non-essentials, could well have surprising and pleasing results, in day-to-day life as well as in sports.

Reimers of 2121 Cottage Ave., was among outstanding Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets who attended the annual conclave of the Arnold Air Society in late April at Hollywood, Fla. H. "Hap" Arnold.

Cadet Reimers, a member of the AAS squadron at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and attendees met to discuss organizational programs for the coming year and to hear addresses by noted aerospace leaders.

Cadet Reimers is a liberal arts and science major and member of the class of '71 at the university.

June Bride-Elect Feted at Party

A sunshine yellow umbrella from which raindrops sprinkled upon an array of yellow and white spring blossoms was the decorating focal point for a pre-wedding party honoring Miss June Zimmer, a June bride-elect.

The miscellaneous bridal shower was given this week at Hope Lutheran Church by three aunts of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Marilyn Goetting, Mrs. Ethel Hackworth and Mrs. Anita Brown.

About 50 relatives and friends attended, including Mrs. Ethel Zimmer, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Pearl Tharp, the prospective bridegroom's mother, and the couple's grandmothers, Mrs. Florence Margeson and Mrs. John Frankowski.

Appointments of the refreshment and gift tables conformed to the white and yellow color scheme, the colors of the bride's party. Mrs. Shirley Meyer created the unusual umbrella-garden centerpiece.

After the packages were open, games were played for entertainment and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Marie Lassio, Mrs. Mary Ann Neumann and Mrs. Helen Szczepanich.

HONOREE AT CRADLE SHOWER

A cradle shower was given this week in the home of Mrs. Glenda Charbonnier, 2544 Edwards St., honoring Mrs. Tiny Mefford Bartling. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Charlotte Charbonnier and Mrs. Barbara Dickerson.

Games were enjoyed by the guests and prizes were awarded to Miss Dora Sternberg, Miss Monica Shanwell, Mrs. Arthur Probert, Mrs. Jeanette Struckman and Mrs. Shirley Mefford.

Appropriate pink and blue decorations were used in the shower appointments and refreshments were served.

Those present, beside the above mentioned, were Miss Mary Goodrich, Mrs. Etta Mefford, Mrs. Cecil Miller, Mrs. Pearl Keck, Mrs. Rene Keck, Mrs. Luella Hill and Mrs. Dolores Hedges.

New Superintendent Of Methodists Will Be Dr. Henderson

Reappointment of the Rev. Drs. John Henderson, Harrisburg, and Jack D. Travelstead, Lebanon—the present Harrisburg and East St. Louis district superintendents, respectively—was announced this week.

Dr. Travelstead is superintendent of Wesley United Methodist Church in Macomb of the Central Illinois Conference. Dr. Henderson, a superintendent of the church's Southern Illinois Conference since 1970, will succeed Dr. Travelstead as superintendent of the East St. Louis district, which includes the Quad-Cities.

Dr. Travelstead, said Bishop Webb, will serve, also beginning in June, as senior pastor of Wesley United Methodist Church in Macomb of the Central Illinois Conference. The clergyman has been superintendent of the East St. Louis District since 1966 and is in the fifth year of a six-year term in office.

Superintendents in the denomination may not serve more than six consecutive years in the office.

Dr. Travelstead will succeed Dr. Orval L. Bear, whose appointment, effective in June, as associate secretary of the Central Illinois Conference Preachers' Aid Society, also was announced by Bishop Webb.

Dr. Travelstead is senior among the superintendents in the number of years of service. This appointment represents an unusual opportunity for Dr. Travelstead to serve a significant pastorate in a large, university-oriented church.

Details of the four new district boundaries will be reported to the annual session of the conference at Olney in June.

"Because of the restructuring," said Bishop Webb, "Dr. Henderson is the only superintendent who will be required to move. His long experience and knowledge as pastor in the E. St. Louis district makes this a particularly apt appointment."

Dr. Travelstead, 42, is a native of Harrisburg and was graduated from Harrisburg High School in 1946; from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., with a bachelor of arts degree, after two years in attendance at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale; and from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., in 1953 with a bachelor of divinity degree. The honorary doctor of divinity degree was conferred by McKendree College in 1968. He married Miss Jerry Rushing of Carbondale, who also graduated from Asbury College.

The couple has three children: Stanton, 19, a sophomore at Eastern Illinois University; Jan, 16, a sophomore at Lebanon High School; and Craig, 14, a freshman at Lebanon High.

He served parishes in Indiana and Georgia before appointment to the Venice Methodist Church in 1953, and successively to the State Street Church in East St. Louis, 1955, and to the First Church of East Alton, in 1960, and as district superintendent in 1966.

He was ordained as a deacon in 1952 and as an elder in 1953. He is widely known in western Illinois and eastern Missouri as a leader in metropolitan planning, as a mediator in labor-management relations, and a developer of many inner-city programs and agencies keyed to the health, welfare and economic and educational advancement of minority groups.

Dr. Travelstead has served positions of administrative leadership on many conference boards and agencies during his ministry and is a member of the General Assembly of the Illinois Council of Churches; organizer of the Ecumenical Housing Fund for metropolitan St. Louis; and president of the Inter-Church Association of Metropolitan St. Louis.

He was among church leaders instrumental in bringing to conclusion through the East St. Louis District Missionary Society the Denver Project of 67 town house units in a reclaimed section of the city.

Dr. John Henderson, 56, is a native of Thebes and graduated in 1932 from Thebes Township High School and in 1940 from McKendree College with a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy and religion. He was ordained as a deacon in 1942 and as an elder in 1944.

He married Miss Darlene C. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, Miss Nell Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Firmer, State Representative Robert J. Walters of Alton, and Denny Foster.

The last meeting of the season will be a dinner session at the Rosebowl May 16.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Grace Range, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, Miss Nell Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Firmer, State Representative Robert J. Walters of Alton, and Denny Foster.

The last meeting of the season will be a dinner session at the Rosebowl May 16.

Dr. Henderson has served pastorates at Bethel-Ham-burg-Belleview, Godfrey, Bethel-Elsa, Staunton, Cairo and Carbondale, and for 12 years at Main Street Methodist Church, Alton, until appointment as Harrisburg district superintendent in 1970.

You cut down on air pollution, too.

About a decade ago, we made a promise to remove our cars from the air pollution problem.

Today we're making good. We're almost there. 1971 Chevrolets emit 80% less hydrocarbons than typical cars of roughly ten years ago.

And about 24 less carbon monoxide. Best of all, we're testing devices that can reach control levels as high as 95%.

But it hasn't been easy. We've had to develop devices that muzzle and reburn exhaust fumes. Devices that check wayward gases around the crankcase vent.

Devices that prevent the escape of raw gasoline vapors. We've even had to invent instruments sophisticated enough to measure the effectiveness of these devices.

The goal and reward have been one and the same: cleaner air. Estimates are that if all U.S. industry could make similar strides, and all cars on the road today were emission controlled like '71 Chevrolets, we'd be breathing 1940 air. You might call that a great step backward.

A step we've been proud to take.

About the Illinois Power Company Priority System for New Gas Service

We have found it necessary to install a priority system for new gas service. The Illinois Commerce Commission has approved this system so that new service can be granted in an orderly fashion. Written application to Illinois Power Company is required for new or increased service.

This comes about as a result of the inability of our pipeline suppliers to continue increasing our gas supply. We regret the need for establishing priorities.

If you have gas service now, no action is required unless you plan increases in gas usage.

The list of priorities is shown below. For further details, call your Illinois Power Company business office.

1. Residential space heating and small commercial space heat requirements not exceeding 250,000 Btu per hour.
2. Firm gas requirements not exceeding 1,500,000 Btu per hour.
3. All firm gas requirements exceeding 1,500,000 Btu per hour.
4. All interruptible, seasonal or other non-firm requirements not exceeding 20,000 cubic feet per hour.

Estate Plan For Women is Essential

It's just as important for a woman to make an "estate plan" as it is for a man, four specialists in estate planning told a group of southern Illinois business and professional women at a late-April seminar held by the Southern Illinois University Foundation.

In the case of a husband-and-wife, it is a "family estate plan" that should be developed, not individual ones, one speaker told the group.

Sound estate planning involves the services of a team to conserve and protect the client's assets and assure their proper distribution at death or in other specified contingencies, the speakers agreed.

This team should consist of an attorney to draft the will, an accountant to provide complete and accurate figures on valuation of assets, a life insurance counselor to tailor insurance policies for "ready cash," and a trust officer to review the state plan and administer the disposition and distribution of the assets.

John J. Vassen, a Belleville attorney, outlined the information the client should furnish his attorney: What do you own, how is the title held, where do you want it to go at a specified time and the relationship of the parties involved.

Ross advised against the husband's "leaving everything to my wife" since "a series of unfortunate investments could leave her penniless."

"If the breadwinner makes a bad investment while he is still earning," he explained, "he can still support his family and have an opportunity to recoup, but the widow may have no income."

Furthermore, Ross added, an outright bequest often results in higher taxes. A $200,000 estate left outright to the wife will require approximately $21,000 in taxes, and on her death the children will pay $62,000. "A double-trust will cut the taxes

"You need to supply actual deeds, insurance policies, buy-and-sell agreements, leases, trusts," he said. "You need an educational session with the attorney to explore the tools he can use."

Don't Under-Value

Bernard H. Ross, a Carbondale certified public accountant, told the group that "people have a tendency to under-value their estates, particularly a family business."

"A concern doing $20,000 worth of business annually may have a $50,000 book value but may have a tax valuation of $300,000," he pointed out. "You need liquid assets to meet immediate cash requirements, and to plan for sufficient income from interest to provide adequate standard of living."

The accountant is the person who can provide the attorney the data on day-to-day business operations needed for a correct evaluation, he said.

Ross advised against the husband's "leaving everything to my wife" since "a series of unfortunate investments could leave her penniless."

"If the breadwinner makes a bad investment while he is still earning," he explained, "he can still support his family and have an opportunity to recoup, but the widow may have no income."

Furthermore, Ross added, an outright bequest often results in higher taxes. A $200,000 estate left outright to the wife will require approximately $21,000 in taxes, and on her death the children will pay $62,000. "A double-trust will cut the taxes to $21,000 at each death, or a total of around $42,000."

Insurance Is Cash

Donald Ray of Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., St. Louis, said that a recent national poll showed that "life insurance is the second most important asset and that it is the one most people know the least about."

"Life insurance is property. It is not just a policy, it is ready cash, quickly available to pay estate taxes, death costs and other emergency requirements. It is liquid money, for it does not have to be sold, often at a discount, in order to obtain cash."

Ralph Green, a trust officer, at Illinois State Trust, East St. Louis, said the trust officer's responsibility is to review the client's will and trust instruments, to see that the executor of the estate has all the powers he needs to administer the trust effectively.

The fees charged are saved many times over by the experience of the trust officer in handling the disposition of assets," he said. "One item alone can be expensive—if settlement of an estate drags on for a long period, the executor is required to furnish bond each year, all chargeable against the estate. The trust corporation bond avoids these extra assessments."

The seminar, sponsored jointly by the SIU Foundation, the University Division of Extension Services and District 16, Business and Professional Women's Clubs, was chaired by Mrs. John Page Wham of Centralia. Geoffrey Hughes, executive secretary of Southern Illinois Inc., served as moderator.

Former GC Pastor, Wife Observe Silver Anniversary in Arizona

The Rev. and Mrs. Lowell B. Parker, formerly of Granite City, have celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary in Arizona in the midst of friends from throughout Arizona, with a few former Granite City residents among the group, and a host of Texas relatives. The event was held in the home of a friend from Naples, Italy.

The silver anniversary couple has full memories of their wedding in Dallas 25 years ago. Their Granite City memories are the real heart of their life, the Parker's recalled—for it was there that "both dedicated their lives to Christ and service to others."

In order to follow the mission work they both liked so much, the couple became members of Third Baptist Church where their Granite City memories are the real heart of their life, the Parker's recalled—for it was there that "both dedicated their lives to Christ and service to others."

Several days after the gala event, Mrs. Parker presented her husband with a "special gift" to commemorate the occasion—a Lowell B. Parker Scholarship Fund for Ministerial Students. The presentation was made at the First Baptist Church of Sedona, Ariz., where the couple was being feted at a luncheon.

Mrs. Parker said that cash anniversary gifts received by the former local residents would be placed in the fund. Friends and relatives also will be encouraged to contribute to the scholarship fund in lieu of any future gifts they may plan to present the couple.

Because of the Rev. Parker's work and the attendance of their two sons-in-law at Grand Canyon College in Phoenix, Ariz., the institution was selected to benefit from the principal amount on deposit.

The Rev. and Mrs. Parker reside at 5250 N. 20th St., Phoenix, Ariz.

native Granite City and Mrs. Worthington resided here as a young girl.

Mrs. Worthington attended her mother in the renewal of vows ceremony and the Rev. Roy Parker, executive secretary of the Arizona Southern Baptist Convention, served as best man. Both mother and daughter carried a long stemmed red rose decorated with silver ribbon and greenery.

Four generations of a former Granite City family attended the surprise party honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Parker—Mrs. Garnette Pierce, her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Martin, the latter's daughter, Mrs. Bob (Sherry) Ragdale and the Ragdale's infant daughter.

The Rev. Parker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parker, 2413 State St., and a brother of L. C. "Red" Parker, safety director at Granite City Steel Co.

You cut down on outer wear, inner wear and under wear with any of these Chevrolets.

Your money's tight these days. And before you go loosening it up on something new, you want to be very sure what you buy will be around for a while. We understand. And we've done something about it. Impala, Chevelle, Camaro. And Nova. Each car, for example, gives you a lot more outerwear protection than enamel. That holds a shine longer. Bumpers, door handles, and locks that are made to resist rust. And special protective inner fenders to help keep the outer fenders looking new. Each car gives you more innerwear protection, too. That's because our Body by Fisher craftsmen equip the cars with upholstery and durable materials that really hold their good looks. Resilient cushioning that gives you thousands and thousands of comfortable sittings. And long-lasting vinyl trim. And each car gives you more underwear protection. The engines last longer because they run cleaner on low-lead or low-lead gas. The brake lines are corrosion-resistant. The exhaust system is aluminumized. And there are rocker panels or body sills designed to help keep rust spots from ever forming under the doors. Impala, Chevelle, Camaro. And Nova. If you like their good looks now, you'll love the way they hold onto their good looks. It's putting you first like this, that keeps us first.

Four Overdose Cases Treated at Hospital

Four separate incidents in which Granite City residents consumed excessive quantities of medicine of various types were reported to police Monday. Two women, a man and a teenage girl were among those treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

An East Granite woman was transferred to a Belleville hospital from the emergency room here after taking an overdose of sedative tablets at 10:45 a.m. Monday.

Another woman, 67, reported in a depressed state of mind, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation after telling authorities she consumed an overdose of medicines at 11:45 a.m.

Earlier Monday, a 38-year-old man living in the East Granite area was taken to hospital from his home after consuming 20 tranquilizer capsules and two other tablets.

A 14-year-old junior high school student taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance from school after she became sleepy, reported to the school nurse she had taken 8 or 9 tranquilizers at home before reporting to classes. The teenage girl underwent treatment and was reported in good condition.

PAUL HOFFMAN

GC Student Produces, Writes Benefit Show

Paul Hoffman, Granite City, a senior student at Illinois State University, Normal, was the writer, director and producer of a play presented to the public during the weekend at the university.

The play "1917-1971. What's The Difference?" was produced in conjunction with the annual program of the Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity. Proceeds are used to aid crippled children.

All profits from this year's show were donated to McLean County Crippled Children's summer camp.

Hoffman, who belongs to the fraternity, and his fellow members also participate in another project for the crippled children's camp by donating their time assisting in summer activities for the children.

A 1968 graduate of Granite City High School, Hoffman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoffman, 2632 Benton St. He is majoring in chemistry and has been on the Dean's list for the three years he has been at the university.

Technology School At SIU Reorganized

Reorganization of Southern Illinois University's School of Technology to reflect its broadened engineering programs has been approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The unit now becomes the School of Engineering and Technology with five component departments. They are electrical sciences and systems engineering, engineering mechanics and materials, occupational education, technology, and thermal and environmental engineering.

The change had been approved last October by the SIU board of trustees. Formed in 1960 after SIU was given legislative approval to offer the engineering degree, the school has been operating with no formal departments. "Professors-in-charge" have supervised basic programs in engineering, applied science, industrial technology and engineering technology. A fifth program, technical and industrial education, has been under a faculty chairman.

A junior at Madison Junior High School, she was given the award on the basis of scholastic ability, citizenship and leadership. Girls State will be held one week in June at McMurray College, Jacksonville.

Lynch with Band in Pageant at Memphis

The University of Missouri-Rolla band has been selected to play in the River Pageant at Memphis, Tenn., Saturday evening, May 8, as part of the Cotton Festival celebration. Participants will include David Lynch, 2613 Lynch Ave., Granite City.

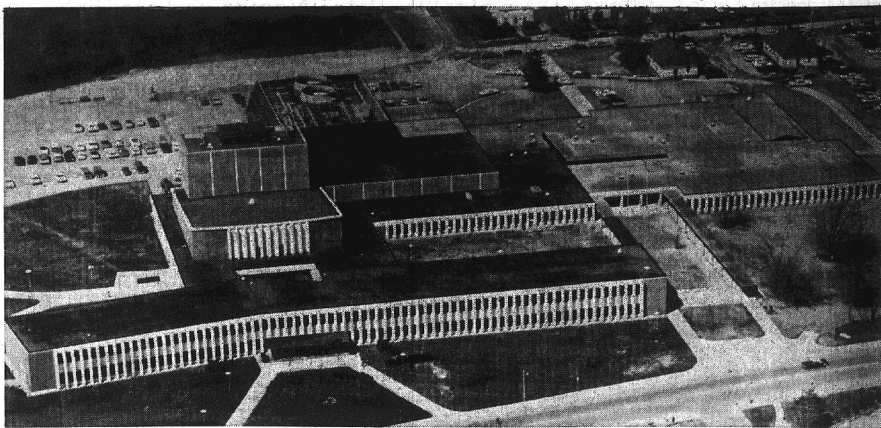

The River Pageant, held on the Mississippi River, consists of a series of barge floats carrying the Mads of Cotton. It precedes the Cotton Carnival by one week. The UMR band is directed by David L. Oakley, assisted by Joel I. Krammer; it will be the only band to appear.

Theme for the decoration of the UMR band barge will be the UMR Centennial. It will depict the major areas of study on the Rolla campus: engineering for the betterment of mankind, science for the advancement of knowledge and humanities for the understanding of man.

The band also will present a concert in the band shell in Court Square in downtown Memphis from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. May 8. The 66-piece band will leave Rolla Friday, May 7, and return on that Sunday. On the evening preceding departure, the UMR bands, chorus and jazz ensemble will present a "pops" concert in the Student Union ballroom.

Group Plans Studies In French in Summer

A ten-week program of studies in French will be conducted this summer at Arachon, France, by Max Delhomme, associate professor of French at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

According to Delhomme, who came here two years ago from his native France, the program includes two weeks of travel—involving required field trips, the other independent travel.

Course offerings include intermediate composition and conversation, advanced composition and conversation, culture and civilization, readings and personal research, a seminar on a selected French author, and applied linguistics and remedial phonetics.

Undergraduates will be able to take up to 115 quarter hours, graduate students up to six. Only 25 will be accepted, Delhomme said, and 14 are already enrolled. Applicants for the program should have one year of college French or the equivalent. Senior high school students with two years of French are eligible.

SIU Carbondale Students Asked to Persuade Others Not to Be Violent

Letters from Chancellor Robert L. Laver to each of the 22,000 students on the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University contain a resume of human relations progress made since the disorders of May 1970; a look at the present "plateau of understanding"; and a plea for reasonable activities in the weeks ahead.

"I want to do everything I can to make this a place where each can live and let live," the chancellor said. "I do not want us to add to the city's already aroused anxieties."

"We are approaching the first anniversary of the most turbulent period in the history of our university. Those of us who were here are not likely to forget either the events of last May or the intensity of emotions which characterized that nightmare."

Laver said the Carbondale campus this year evidences an atmosphere of rationality and good will far superior to that of a year ago. He appealed to the students individually:

Student Rule Decisive

"If future events threaten peace and order on this campus, I firmly believe that in the long run only the student body can save Southern Illinois University."

Higher education cannot function in a state of anarchy, Dr. Laver continued; the public will simply withdraw its support and the university will cease to exist.

In no sense is the university responsible for policies and actions which many citizens find objectionable, he stressed.

"Destruction of property on campuses and surrounding communities has not saved a single job for the underprivileged, or reduced the racial prejudice of those so afflicted," Laver said.

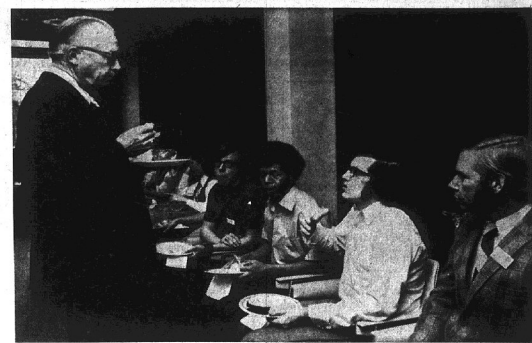

"Instead, it has served only to harden the posture of those very people the activists sought to influence."

Referring to the weeks ahead, Chancellor Laver said:

"Future events may test our motives and our ability to deal with conflicts in a spirit of rationality and moderation."

Physical Will Be Dealt With

"If these conflicts become physical, it must be clear to you that they must be dealt with through measures designed

New Art Media Added For SIU Workshop

Several popular new art media and techniques have been added to the program for the 1971 Summer Art Workshop for talented high school students at Carbondale campus, June 20-July 3, according to Sylvia

Greenfield, workshop director. Acrylics, tie-dyeing and inflatables will be taught in addition to drawing, painting, sculpture, ceramics and weaving.

The fee for the two-week session is $135 which includes room and board (with the exception of Sunday evening meals) in University residence halls, and all instruction and supplies. Students who wish to

Two GC Students Win St. Louis U. Awards

Two Granite City High School students are among 427 winners of freshman scholarships and achievement awards for the 1971-72 academic year at St. Louis University.

They are Bonnie J. Byrnes, daughter of Mrs. Jean Byrnes, 4732 Namoki Road, and John R. Markarian, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Markarian, 2105 Clark Ave.

Edward C. Toomey, acting dean of admissions, said the average high school rank of the winners was in the top five per cent of their class. Thirty-six are valedictorians.

Students from 244 high schools competed for the awards which are made on the basis of past academic achievement and future academic promise.

They are accompanied by financial stipends determined on the basis of need and are renewable for four years.

Campus Radio Station To Use New Service

When National Public Radio (NPR) begins a broadcasting May 3 as a national network, WSIE-FM will be one of 90 charter members meeting the NPR broadcast criteria.

The Southern Illinois University-Southwestern station, located at 88.7 on the dial, is one of 457 existing non-commercial radio stations. WSIE will carry the NPR programs daily, Monday through Friday, from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

The prime concern of NPR is the interconnection of stations into a "live" network. Fred Criminger, station manager, said, "This will greatly increase educational radio's ability to provide in-depth coverage of public affairs at the moment news is made," he said.

Noted Theologian to Speak at McKendree

Dr. George D. Kelsey, professor of Christian ethics in the Theological and Graduate Schools of Drew University in New Jersey, will speak at McKendree College on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

He will give five lectures, one after a banquet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in Ames Hall. Tickets are $2. Otherwise the lectures are open to the public without charge. His program is being sponsored by The Division of Social Sciences.

Dr. Kelsey will lecture on "Justice, the Unfinished Task of the West," "The Peculiar Status of the Black Minority in America," "Christian Faith and Sexuality," "A Christian Interpretation of Human Rights," and "Christians as Citizens."

GEORGE D. KELSEY

Dr. Kelsey is a widely recognized theologian. Once Dr. Martin Luther King called him "my teacher."

In Memoriam 33
In loving memory of HARVEY BARR, who passed away April 30, 1961.
We think of him in happy days, When we were all together. His loving smile and cheerful heart
Will live in our hearts forever.
Sadly missed by
HIS CHILDREN,
GRANDCHILDREN AND ALL WHO LOVED HIM
In loving memory of OPAL BRUNCH, April 30, 1964.
At twilight when twilight hour draws near,
And sunset flames the sky,
We think of you dear Mother and Wife
And the happy days gone by.
To know that you are resting Within our dreams to stay.
When the twilight ends the day,
Sadly missed by:

In loving memory of JULIA CHOMKO, April 29, 1966.
Death's tribute is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
We will have all together.
Sadly missed by:
FAMILY & FRIENDS
In loving memory of EVERETTE WARNECKE, April 28, 1970.
One can ever take away The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day.
Remembrance keeps him dear.
Sadly missed by:

Indifference
Our worst fault today is our refusal to stand up and be counted for what we believe.
